

Mary's Help Drive to Go Door to Door

The campaign for funds for Mary's Help hospital will go from door to door in Daly City as the deadline for a final decision on the size of the hospital draws near.

The difference between a 250-bed hospital and a 400-bed hospital must be decided on by November 15. The Daughters of Charity must let the contractor know whether to continue to build a 10-story hospital or stop at eight stories.

Door to door solicitation for funds is being done as a last resort, chairman of the fund drive Frank Curry told a Chamber of Commerce meeting last Thursday.

"Donations in Daly City have been badly lagging," he said.

The drive for $1.5 million has reached the halfway mark with $700,000 already subscribed. The bulk of the funds, however, has come from San Francisco.

The campaign received a strong new incentive last week when Reverend Richard W. Power, pastor of Our Lady of Mercy church in Westlake, recently returned from Europe, announced he had asked his parish organizations — the Men's club and the Women's auxiliary — to do the door to door solicitations of all of Westlake.

Chairman of the board for Mary's Help hospital, Federal judge George B. Harris said the gesture is greatly appreciated and in line with the splendid co-operation and support received from Protestant and Jewish organizations and individuals throughout the North San Mateo service area.

"This non-sectarian support of a non-profit general community voluntary hospital in the most critical area of California is evidence of the public's awareness of the urgent need for this type facility," Harris said.

Harris said that although Mary's Help hospital is a church related institution, operated by the three-centuries old Daughters of Charity, "it is strictly non-sectarian in its service to all races and religions, regardless of economic status."

Forest drive, president of the Women's group, will direct the door-to-door solicitation of Westlake, while Mrs. Dolores Leonard, 70 Santa Elena avenue and Thomas Neenan, 476 El Dorado street, will head up the drive in the St. Francis Heights area.

Mary's Help guild, under the direction of President Mrs. Paul Neagle, have pledged to raise $50,000. The Neagles live in Daly City.

City Attorney Paul Hupf, president of the Daly City Rotary club, said the club has undertaken the solicitation of the downtown shopping area.

The Daly City Fire department, under Chief Elmer Kennedy, has also been working on the drive, Harris said.

In Pacifica, despite a heavy soaking rain storm, Pacifica volunteers collected over $2300 and chairmen Marian Ballew and Peggy Drake estimated the drive would net almost $5000.

A house tour of seven artist homes Sunday sponsored by the Pacifica Art guild is also planned to benefit the hospital. The proceeds from the tour will be donated to Pacifica's total.

Other leaders in the drive for the new hospital include the Reverend Roy Milam, D.D., formerly of Daly City; Reverend H. Hansell Stenbridge, pastor of the Westlake Baptist church; Rabbi Herbert Morris of Temple Judea; John Drye of Kilpatrick Bakeries; A. J. Zirpoli of the Bank of America, and Peter Markovich of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce.

The hospital, located in the southern part of Daly City, was designated for the area because the State Bureau of Hospitals said this was the "most critical in need" in California.

Emergency patients have to be transported to South San Francisco at Kaiser Foundation hospital and then transferred to Peninsula hospital in Burlingame.

Mary's Help hospital will provide an emergency service when it is completed in 1965. It will (Please See Page 2, Column 2)

Negroes Cause No Problems In Westview

There has been no friction or unpleasantness caused by the selling of many homes in the Westview section of Pacifica to negroes, Mrs. Margaret Dailey, a resident of the area told Pacificans at the second north Coastside community council meeting on "Race and Residents."

★ ★ ★ Anti-Bias Resolution Is Proposed

A proposed anti-discrimination ordinance is on Pacifica city council agenda for this evening.

Councilman Harland Minshew, whose previous motion for such an ordinance was defeated, is again asking the council to pass a law denying city funds to organizations discriminating on race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry.

Minshew is suggesting councilmen adopt a resolution similar to one passed last month by the Berkeley city council, in which the council would reaffirm a policy of non-discrimination and would require any organization receiving financial assistance or contributions from the city to file with city officials a written guarantee of non-discriminatory practices.

City Attorney Conrad Reich (Please See Page 2, Column 3)

Mrs. Dailey said that Pacificans from other sections of the city "think we have a problem, the problem is that there are almost no Negroes living elsewhere in the city."

Mrs. Dailey said there have been some attempts at block-busting in Westview but that it has failed and there has been little panic selling by whites.

In all cases, claimed Mrs. Dailey, Westviewers have found their new Negro neighbors taking better care of their homes than some of the previous white residents.

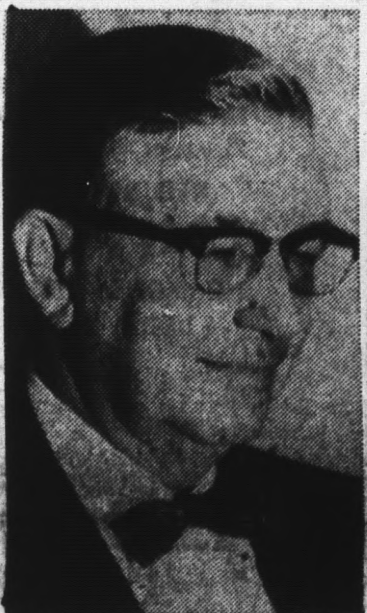

Mrs. Dailey, who is very active in community groups in Pacifica, said that she was most concerned that Negroes interested in purchasing homes in Pacifica are shown only houses in Westview.

Dr. Raymond Rucker, San Mateo dentist who has been active in the urban league and other groups finding housing for minorities, said their policy now in San Mateo is to try to make houses available to Negroes in all sections of the city.

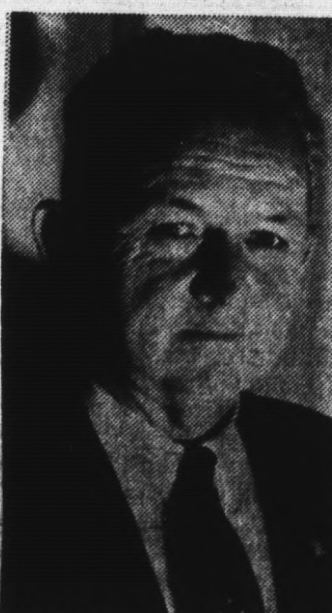

"When there can be no block-busting, there will be no place to run to, people will have to stand and face the problem of integration," Dr. Rucker declared.

Dr. Rucker, who lives in Eichler Highlands, said his family was the first Negro family to buy a home west of El Camino in San Mateo. The house was sold to them seven years (Please See Page 2, Column 2)

Herb Sharpe Elected to Head Chamber of Commerce

Herb E. Sharpe, noted Daly City insurance man and past president of the Daly City Rotary club, was unanimously elected to head the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce for the coming year.

He succeeds Bernard "Bud" Lycett to the presidency.

Attorney David Friedenber was named first vice president and Edward Morgan, superintendent of the Jefferson Union High school district, was elected second vice president.

William Sweeney Jr. retains the position of treasurer and Walter McRae was named recording secretary.

The new officers will be installed formally at a dinner at the Olympic Golf and Country club. A no-host cocktail hour will precede dinner at 7 p.m.

The dinner will mark the tenth anniversary of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce.

Guest speaker will be Lee Ham of the planning firm of Wilsey, Ham and Blair, the firm which is doing the planning of the vast Christen Ranch being annexed to Daly City.

His subject will be "Planning and Its Effect on the Orderly Development of a City."

New Junior High Site Sought for Daly City

Court Order Is Dropped

The Bayshore Fire department will officially be absorbed into Daly City's department on November 1, according to City Attorney Paul Hupf.

Brisbane has officially withdrawn a court injunction halting the dissolution of the district, Hupf said.

Still pending, however, is a court decision on the distribution of the assets of the district, amounting to approximately $100,000.

Brisbane contends that it should receive about 55 per cent of the assets because of the assessed valuation of the property formerly in the district now in Brisbane—the Southern Pacific lands.

Brisbane annexed the territory into its fire district after the first steps for dissolution of the Bayshore Fire district were taken and after the election dissolving the district was held.

Hupf contends Daly City is in the right because the city's action to dissolve was taken first and has precedence.

20-Acre School In Christen Area

The Jefferson Elementary school district took the first steps Monday in an effort to get a new junior high school site in Daly City.

The new school would be located between the St. Francis Square shopping center and the proposed lateral freeway from Junipero Serra to the Cabrillo Highway.

The district authorized its superintendent to prepare a certificate of necessity to enable them to get state funds.

The 20-acre site is partially in the Christen ranch, partially owned by McKeown Construction company and partially (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

S.S.F. Alley Crackdown On Parking

A police clampdown on parking in rear alleys was promised by South San Francisco city councilmen Monday night when a new parking ordinance becomes effective November 8.

The council made its promise after hearing a complaint from former Councilman Victor Boido that cars parked on rear alleys, many abandoned without their motors, are creating a serious problem especially as far as police and fire protection is concerned.

"A lot of cars are parked for months and months," Boido complained. "It's a shame." He added, "I'd rather sleep outside than leave my car outside."

Boido also asked the possibility of extending Grand avenue all the way to El Camino Real, which he said the council had to drop 30 years ago.

"Now you have all kinds of aid from the county and state," the former official asserted.

Construction of second homes on the rear of lots facing alleys have long been a problem to the council, and Monday night the council refused action to al-

Second Hearing On Christen Set

The Daly City Council will hold the second reading of the ordinance annexing the vast Christen ranch Monday.

Only a protest by the Suburban Realty company, owners and developers of the land, could halt the annexation. A referendum, similar to the one that halted Daly City's attempted annexation of Westborough in 1961, is the only danger to the move, which several city officials have praised.

The property becomes part of Daly City 30 days after the second reading.

JESD Chief In S.F. Crash; 2 Fatalities

Two San Francisco boys were killed and Jefferson Elementary school Superintendent Richard T. Foster narrowly escaped injury in a head-on collision Saturday afternoon on Park Presidio, a quarter mile south of the Funston tunnel.

Dead are William Yee and Anthony Yuen. They were thrown from a car driven by Arthur Dulberg, a fellow student from George Washington High school.

Police said Dulberg lost control of his car when he hit a shoulder of the road and then swerved across the center line to collide with the northbound car of Foster.

Cities Observe UN Anniversary

The anniversary of the Charter of the United Nations will be observed in both Daly City and Pacifica this week with appropriate ceremonies.

In Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci has proclaimed October 24 as United Nations day and urged citizens "to demonstrate their faith in the United Nations and contribute to a better understanding of its aims, problems and accomplishments."

In Pacifica, more elaborate ceremonies are planned. The council has appointed a committee to formulate a program for the observance Sunday.

Dr. deVere Pentony, chairman of the Department of International Relations at San Francisco State college, will speak at the Cabrillo school at 8 p.m. on the subject "Why the United Nations is Important to Pacifica."

Pentony received his degrees at the University of Iowa and did graduate work at the Library of Congress. He is the editor of a series of books dealing with the United Nations. (Please See Page 2, Column 2)

Construction Danger Cited By Resident

Pacifica city officials will be asked tonight to take action to ensure the safety of school children living near or traveling past the Coastal freeway construction area.

In a letter to the council, John McDonald, of 827 Serena drive is requesting that a member of the council or other city official act as safety observer to bring obvious cases of hazard to the attention of the contractors.

McDonald said he chased five very small children away from some four foot cement pipes that they were rolling back and forth and that he observed "a large number of pits, excavations and plain holes" not barricaded or protected in any way.

A San Franciscan, M. C. Murphy, of 1266 Dolores street, is objecting to city officials posting a nuisance abatement notice on his Vallejo property.

Murphy complained in a letter to the council that no one contacted him to inform him of the "so-called violations" before public action was taken.

Murphy said the house has been vandalized and that the city posting will only encourage more such acts.

Objections made by Westview residents to dumping along the Chinese cemetery road has resulted in action by the county, Pacifica council will be told this evening.

The area along the road has now been posted and fenced and the county health department has been asked to request the owner to remove debris that is already accumulated. City Manager Karl Baldwin has been notified.

low Mr. and Mrs. Pete Karavolos to construct a home at the rear of their property at 639 Baden avenue.

The council agreed to consider the couple's action at its next meeting, despite objections from Councilman Emilio Cortesi that the city has allowed second homes on other property in the area.

"What you do for one, you should do for all," Cortesi complained.

Mayor Patrick E. Ahern said the traffic problem is increasing as more homes are built facing alleys, and the city has "to find a way to get off."

Scheduled adoption of an ordinance annexing the huge Westborough area was put over until a special meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m. to give time to City Attorney John Noonan to draft an agreement with the developers as to park sites and other improvements.

Councilmen paved the way for rapid construction of an Olympic size community swimming pool at the new El Camino High school when they approved a joint recreation agreement with the South San Francisco unified school district in which they agreed to pay half the pool construction cost, or $41,750. As part of the agreement, the city will also develop and maintain lots in the Avalon area for neighborhood playgrounds.

In other actions, the council:

Agreed to investigate the possibility of a clamp down against property owners who fail to properly maintain their fences after hearing a complaint from a resident in the 700 block of Grand avenue that the real estate broker who owns the lot next to him will not repair his fence.

Colma Halts Flood Control

Some $40,000 in funds has been allocated this year for the dredging of Colma Creek and its tributaries and work is more than half done, according to Public Works Superintendent Louis Goss.

The annual expenditure by the city and county could be eliminated by the proposed $2.25-million Colma Creek flood control project, he said, but the city of Colma in the heart of the watershed, says no.

Four other cities affected approved the project. State and federal agencies have indicated they will bear $2-million of the costs, with the balance split among the five cities on the basis of zones of benefit.

Colma's action stops the program at least 60 days. The board of supervisors will be able to take legal action to form the special district. Dredging must be done, Goss said, to remove silt which could create flood conditions.

Wave Alert Comes Again But It's Handled Better

County officials said Monday that the tidal wave alert Sunday morning was handled much more efficiently than it was a week earlier. Some Half Moon Bay residents were evacuated, but none in Pacifica.

"This time," said Under-sheriff Wesley Pomeroy, "there was some information on the subject and we were able to get it."

A week earlier Pomeroy complained that the state civil defense and disaster office had failed to follow through and cancel the alert. State Alert

The alarm came at 12:39 a.m. Sunday in the form of a teletype from the state office. As was the case a week earlier, an earthquake in the area north of Japan had caused fears that a tidal wave would spread across the Pacific and wreak havoc in low-lying shore areas.

This time the state CD office kept tabs on the progress of the wave and put out the information to the counties. By teletype it was less than a foot high when it hit Alaska, Hawaii and Midway.

"We were pretty sure it would not be anything to us," Pomeroy said.

The undersheriff sent six cars to the coast and told his deputies to stand by there until further checks were made.

A "hot line" was set up between Pacifica and Crescent City, where the wave was scheduled to hit at 3:05 a.m., 35 minutes before it was due to strike the San Mateo county coast. When the word came through that there was an imperceptible rise in the water at Crescent City, the alert was called off in San Mateo county.

"It worked very well," Pomeroy said. "There was no problem at all."

Mrs. Genevieve Jefferson, of San Francisco, who won a San Francisco Foundation award for her work in halting panic-selling in the Merced Heights section, said that the experience in her neighborhood which has been integrated for the past ten years, has dispelled several myths.

Integration has not caused the neighborhood to deteriorate, property values to drop or crime and delinquency to increase, she said.

Rev. Hansel Stembridge, Westlake Baptist minister, formerly of Lynchburg, Virginia, said that he believed white leaders in Birmingham, Alabama, "now have no acceptance of responsibility to do more than they have been doing, they are only blaming outsiders for what has been happening."

also have a free clinic for the poor.

The Daughters of Charity operate the present Mary's Help hospital on Guerrero street in San Francisco, but the hospital site is being razed and the order of sisters had to find a new location.

The hospital is expected to cost over $8 million. Federal and state funds under the Hill-Burton act will provide $3.8 million. Only $1.5 million will be subscribed from the public. The remainder will be provided by the Daughters of Charity through the sale of their San Francisco property, their savings and a $1 million loan from the Bank of America.

Donations to the hospital are tax deductible, Harris said.

Dupont Paint Firemen Avert SSF Disaster

Quick action of less than a dozen heroic members of the plant fire brigade at the DuPont Chemical company plant on South Linden avenue Monday afternoon averted a major catastrophe in the southern section of South San Francisco's industrial area, Fire Chief John Marchi reported yesterday. A thousand lives were at stake.

As it was, when fumes from a 3000-gallon underground tank containing paint thinner were set off by a spark from an electric motor flames leaped 100 feet into the air, pieces of shattered varnish drums were sent hurtling through third story windows in an office building 150 feet away, and the city hall, a mile away, was rocked by the explosion.

Marchi said if the fire brigade had not sprung into immediate action with two hose lines and kept flames confined to a large pile of varnish drums, large quantities of nitroglycerin, nitro-cellose or gun cotton and other highly explosive liquids probably would have exploded and set off nearby industrial plants such as the Standard Oil company of California substation across the street and the nearby Reichhold Chemical company. He reported that more than a thousand employees evacuating the plant were exposed to death.

Black Smoke
A black plume of smoke poured high into the air after the explosion rocked the northern part of San Bruno and southern South San Francisco shortly before 4 p.m.

Marchi immediately ordered first and second alarms sounded after receiving a report of the explosion, and all available firemen and equipment were sent to the DuPont factory at the corner of South Linden and Ocean avenues.

Land will also be given by the district to the county for roads purposes in the area.

In other action the district instructed Superintendent Richard Foster to begin annexation proceedings on the Franklin Delano Roosevelt site into Daly City.

The school site is presently within the boundaries of Pacifica, but all the children going to the school are from Westlake Terrace section of Daly City.

A proposed land swap between Pacifica and Daly City has been stalled.

Pacifica wants a 33-acre tract of land in Fairmont in exchange for 66 acres between the Coast Highway and the ocean.

The Daly City council, in a special meeting with the school district recently, said they were willing to make the trade on Pacifica's terms, but the Coast council has delayed a decision.

The board of trustees reaffirmed its opposition to the county's decision to White street from Broadmoor Village to the Westlake Shopping center, but said it would not pursue the case in court.

The street extension cuts off a sizable area of playfield utilized by the district for play use by the Garden Village Elementary school and the Ben Franklin Junior High school.

Shark Starts Pacifica Flap

A 20-foot long basking shark who was responsible for the evacuation of scores of bathers and surfboard riders from Pedro Beach in Pacifica Sunday morning even though officers pumped five bullets from a high powered hunting rifle into him.

Officers were called to the beach Monday afternoon by Pete Lobianco, who owns a home on the beach. Officer Mel Nelson said he and Lobianco and two other men took a small boat out towards the giant shark after alerting bathers. He said the creature was shot five times with a 30-06 hunting rifle. Lobianco called Monday, however, to report the shark was still alive and basking off shore.

metal flying through windows of the main office building, but factory workers were able to confine the blaze. Several office workers narrowly escaped injury from flying glass and debris.

In addition to the drums which had already exploded, the ends of many other drums were already bulging out and appeared ready to explode. Marchi said firemen were able to bring the fire under control in about 15 minutes.

Flames were still shooting up from a pile of drums, stored three and four tiers high in an open area between a paint warehouse and a plant building used to manufacture flammable materials. Fortunately, Marchi said, the explosion occurred in an open area.

Pacificans Fight Alone

A tentative decision to go ahead on their own with a small breakwater to save their crumbling properties was reached Saturday as a stopgap measure by the 12 Pacifica homeowners whose oceanfront lots are slipping into the sea.

Max Link, a spokesman for the Esplanade drive group, said that the final outcome, however, will depend on legal advice and further checks with city, state and federal agencies this week.

"It looks like we have two choices," he said. "Either form a special assessment district, which would cost about $2000 per house on the block (or a total of roughly $24,000), or see if we can get a Small Business administration loan. That could be 20 to 30 per cent less."

If it is possible for them to obtain an SBA loan, the homeowners will have to form a corporation.

In any event, Link said, all 12 property owners appear to be in general agreement on going ahead with their own "groin" type breakwater, rather than waiting the approximately five years it will take the Corps of Army Engineers to complete studies, get an appropriation and build a jetty that will permanently halt the erosion. Their back yards are being chewed away an average of six feet per year.

"If we do go ahead on our own with the private engineering," Link added, "it will be only a temporary measure. Anything we do will have to be incorporated eventually in what the Corps of Engineers puts in."

Homes of the Esplanade drive type have been selling for about $16,000 in Pacifica recently.

Land Study Meetings Set

Pacifica's new land use study committee is hoping to come up with a report for city council by the end of November, according to councilman George Mason, chairman.

The committee is charged with investigating the industrial and commercial growth potential of the city, and the pattern of its residential development.

Tomorrow evening, a meeting with all contractors doing business in Pacifica is scheduled.

Mason said a field trip planned for last weekend, which was postponed, will be held on Saturday, October 26. Committee members will tour all of the large undeveloped acreages in Pacifica, from an 11-acre Oddstad parcel near the Edgemont freeway to Oddstad and Maestri holdings in the east end of Linda Mar valley.

Committee members are also compiling reports on present services and facilities of the two school districts, public utilities and the Park, Beach and Recreation department. The Pacific Chamber of Commerce is making an inventory of the different types of businesses now in the city.

Juveniles Go on Rampage In North County Spree

Police in the northern part of the county were kept busy over the weekend attempting to keep down an outbreak of juvenile crime and violence.

Police action resulted in the arrest of a burglary gang whose leader is only 11 years old, the arrest of two other brothers, 9 and 12, for burglarizing a neighbor's home, the arrest of an 11-year-old youth for the apparently senseless stabbing of his 16-year-old pal and the break up of dozens of fights at the South San Francisco Jefferson High school football game Friday night in which a quantity of weapons was confiscated.

Pacifica police, who broke up two juvenile gangs and recovered some $2000 worth of loot taken in a series of burglaries over the past two weeks, said they had more calls during the last two days when they usually have in a month.

Four members of the juvenile burglary gang, the oldest member of which is 14, were taken into custody at their homes Saturday after one gang member was heard bragging to friends about the burglaries and another youth was seen in the vicinity of a burglarized home.

Recover Loot

Inspector Al Tebaldi reported some $2000 worth of loot, most of which had been hidden in the attic of the home of one of the boys, was recovered.

The arrests solved at least four recent burglaries — two in Pacifica and two in the Pacific Heights area of San Bruno.

When arrested, officers reported, one of the boys was wearing a gold wedding band taken in one of the thefts. As he was being driven to the police station he attempted to hide it by slipping it under the seat of the patrol car.

Taken in the burglaries, Tebaldi said, were piggy banks, jewelry, food, money and even alcoholic beverages.

The gang would usually enter a home by forcing open a rear window or door while the occupants were away.

Two of the boys were taken to the Hillcrest juvenile home, while the other two were turned over to their parents and cited to appear in juvenile court. The vicious criminal record, Tebaldi said.

Brothers Arrested

The two brothers, 9 and 12, were arrested at their home Sunday after forcing open the screen of a neighbor's home and ransacking it.

A quantity of loot, including foreign money, was found this morning in an abandoned home and may have been taken in a burglary at Westview school, officers said.

The 11-year-old boy was charged with assault with a deadly weapon and carrying concealed weapons after he apparently stabbed his pal, 16-year-old Anthony Baker, a resident of the San Francisco Working Boys club, while the two hitchhiked down Cabrillo highway Saturday night.

Officer R. Jacobsen said when he was called to a service station in Pacific Manor he discovered Baker bleeding profusely from a deep stab wound over the heart. The boy appeared to be in a state of shock, Jacobsen said, and was rushed to Peninsula hospital.

Under Questioning

Under questioning, his younger pal admitted he and Baker had spent the evening together in the Linda Mar area and had been hitchhiking northward.

When officers ordered the younger boy to empty his pockets, they said he took out a double edged "dick" and a smaller pocket knife. Later he claimed he and his friend were pretending to have a knife fight when he "accidentally" stabbed his pal.

South San Francisco police reported they and Daly City officers were kept continually busy Friday night stopping fights at the South San Francisco Jefferson High schools football game.

Four uniformed officers and additional plainclothes men were stationed at the game. Confiscated were one sawed off 22 rifle, taken from a 14-year-old Daly City boy, a .22 calibre starter's revolver and a part of scissors that could have been used as a dagger.

Officers said the scissors were taken from an 18-year-old Daly City boy who found all the windows of his car smashed when he left the game.

THIS YEAR'S World Series may go down in history as the most visually dull Series of all time, because good pitching usually makes for dull games.

It was a thrilling Series for Dodger and-or National league fans and-or Yankee haters, but it was the fact of a Dodger sweep, not the Series games themselves, which was exciting.

It was a Series dominated more by one factor than any Series in history. The factor, of course, was pitching. Unfortunately, most clichés—dull as they sound—are true, and variety does spice things up. There was just no spice in the '63 Series.

Oh, Koufax's 15 strikeouts in the opener may have raised a few hairs, and perhaps, for a moment there, Howard's monstrous homer, and maybe Mantle's long-due homer, or perhaps a few fielding plays at third base, but for the most part it was a Series almost totally devoid of the things which make baseball exciting: the spectacular fielding plays, the long ball, the thrilling base-running.

Such a turn of events couldn't have been imagined prior to the Series; not with two of baseball's recognized exciting teams hurling themselves at each other.

But it turns out pretty difficult to hit long balls, make spectacular plays, and run thrillingly when no one's being allowed to hit or gain access to the bases.

It was a Series which, had they played any other team in baseball, the Yanks might have swept because of their outstanding pitching.

Don't forget that the Yank pitching staff held Dodger hitters to merely 25 hits (only six of which came in the last two games), only three of which were homers, and 11 earned runs.

And if Willie Mays is, as Giant critics are often want to point out, a one-man team, then certainly Koufax deserves the same tag, even though Don Drysdale did pitch probably the single most effective game of the Series.

Without Sandy, and, of course, a third game wild pitch and a final game rare Pepitone error, Los Angeles could have been in trouble.

They committed three errors as against the Yankees' one (which, ironically, cost that last game), made only one double-play (and that not until the eighth inning of the last game) against seven, and left their vaunted base-running in last year's record books, as they copied only two bases and managed a two-on-third fiasco. Not to mention, of course, their weak hitting.

The Yankees simply had the misfortune of running into a fine pitching staff launching an exceptional hot streak.

Dodger pitching never was THAT good, or they would have won the pennant by 30 games.

The Dodger staff allowed the Yankees just one run per game, but allowed all National league rivals (including pathetic New York and Houston) close to three runs per game.

And when one realizes that Alston had to call on Perranoski for only two batters during the Series, it's easy to realize just why the Yankees were so thoroughly beaten. Perranoski just may have been more valuable than Koufax during regular season play. That's how good those Dodger starters were!

So what can we say but that the Yankees just happened to meet the better . . . pitching staff.

JIM OTTO, one of Oakland's few really valuable possessions, just may be the best offensive center in pro football . . . and that includes the NFL.

His is a story that makes one want to believe in Santa Claus.

When he graduated from Miami university (Florida) in 1959, he wasn't given even a passing nod by any of the pros because he weighed only 200.

He wandered into the Oakland camp in '60, was told he had a chance with more weight, and built himself up enough to win all-league honors in his rookie year.

He hasn't been off the all-star roster since, and now goes at 240.

Rivals claim he's never made a technical error, never made an imperfect block.

There should be a moral here somewhere about just plain guts.

IF 49ER performance were based on the efficiency of the club's first draft choices over the years, things wouldn't be half bad.

Twelve of the 17 choices thus far have made good. They include Leo Nomellini, Y. A. Tittle, Hugh McElhenny, Dickie Moege, John Brodie, Charlie Krueger, Dave Baker, Monte Stickles, Jimmy Johnson, Bernie Casey, Billy Kilmer, and perhaps Kermit Alexander. The trouble must lie elsewhere.

STATISTICAL ODDS 'N ENDS:

But you can't guess who holds more individual 49er records than any other player . . . Y. A. Tittle of the Giants, that's who. He has 18 of 'em. Frankie Albert, the victim of most of Tittle's assaults of 49er record books, is next best with 14 (several of them punting).

Joe Perry owns 11 running records, Billy Wilson seven pass receiving firsts, with Allyn Beals running a close second with five. Abe Woodson and Joe Arenas have seven kickoff and punt return records. Hugh McElhenny has four purely punt return records. Tommy Davis, incidentally, has as many punting records as does Albert.

Bet you didn't.

Of course you didn't.

Broken down, we find that National league fences to all fields average about seven feet longer, at 376 to 370, than American league fences.

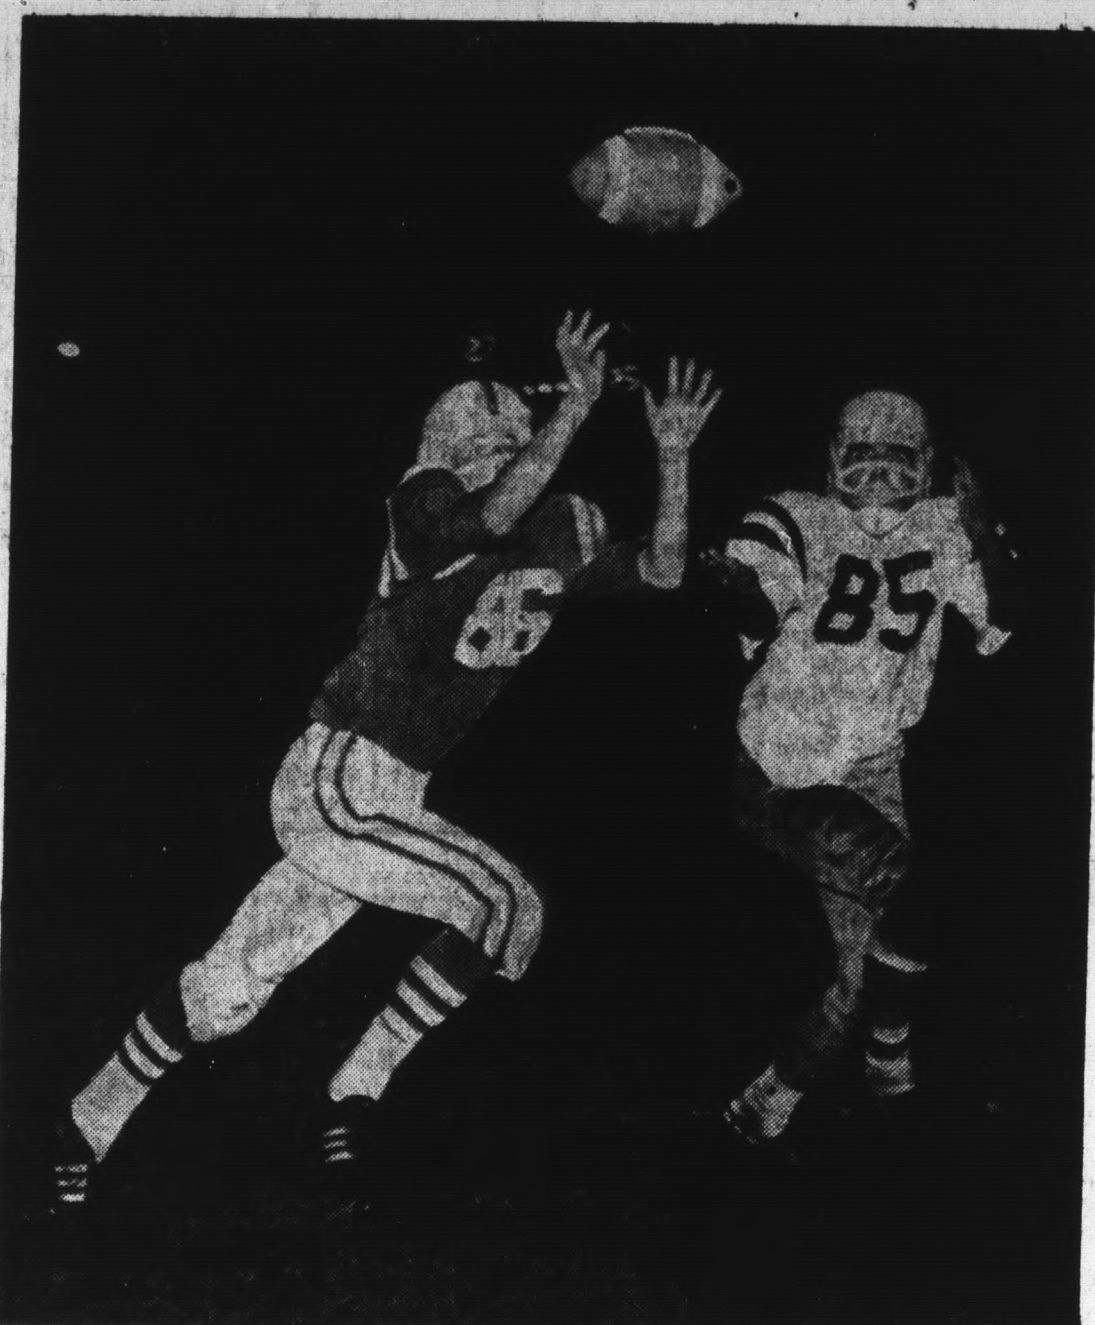

That's for a statistical masterpiece.

What's the significance of these figures?

Immense. This proves that National leaguers have to hit their homers seven feet further than American leaguers.

Alright, now you can turn the lights off and finally get to sleep.

Eyes on the Ball

S.S.F. Defeats Indians, 33-13

It looked as if Joe McGrath's Gutierrez capped a Warrior drive with a five-yard jaunt over the line. Pretari's PAT kick was blocked by a host of Indian linemen.

The battle tightened with a little over two minutes remaining in the first half after Ed Larios hauled in a 42-yard pass from passing sensation Rich Cuadra. Cuadra and Paul Howe teamed up to culminate the drive on a three-yard pass over center. Gary Colino's point-after kick was good.

A conquest over the Colts would mark the second rivalry victory for the Warriors in '63 and would also keep the B street dwellers breathing down the necks of the defending loop champions, the Westmoor Rams.

Last Friday's contest with the Tribe started out to be a carbon copy of the majority of the big game battles in the past.

Jeff was the first to break when Warrior sophomore fullback Greg Jones banged off tackle from a yard out on a fourth and goal situation. Sam Pretari added the extra point with his PAT kick.

South San Francisco struck again with 4:00 remaining in the half when speedster Art

Colts Down Sharks; Eye S.S.F. Game

A dark horse in the NPL football banner chase may gallop into the spotlight in the form of the El Camino Colts, sporting a four-game winning streak with an impressive 26-6 win over the Oceana Sharks Friday night.

Coach Bob Sexton will match his record against a similar one by Ray DeJong's South San Francisco Warriors when the cross-town rivals meet Friday.

Friday's 26-6 triumph over Jess Jones' Oceana Sharks at Clifford field was a start in the right direction for the Colts, a team which has aspirations of stealing the North Peninsula league spotlight from the Rams and the Warriors, but has shied away from bringing them out in the open.

The Colts, behind the flashy signal-calling and running of Mike Tyler and the additional running antics of fullback Walt Harris, overcame an unexpected four-four defense employed by the coasters and bounded back to take a 14-6 edge at the halfway mark.

The Colts first score came with 5:45 remaining in the first quarter when Tyler broke loose at the Shark 27-yard marker and went all the way for the counter. Castellanos' PAT kick was good.

Oceana fullback Tom Summy came up with the sparkler minutes later, however, when he sprinted 44 yards for the only Shark touchdown. Ken McBride's kick was no good.

El Camino caught on to the unexpected defenses thrown against them in the first quarter and in the opening minutes of the second quarter Tyler booted it around right-end for six points with 5:31 left in the half. Castellanos' kick was good.

The Colts applied the icing in the third quarter on a three-yard run by quarterback Mark Avelar and in the final period on a five-yard sprint by fullback Dave Wick. Harris was stopped short on the goal on both PAT attempts.

Sexton has promised that the best is yet to come from his footballers who have their first "for keeps" outing successfully behind them.

"We'll have a few surprises for them and a lot of things we've never shown before," the first year coach remarked. "I still say South San Francisco and Westmoor are the teams to beat. We haven't disproven that yet although we'll get our chance Friday night," he added.

Sea Bowl

WE ARE very pleased to announce a new addition to our staff, George Williams. George is an ardent bowler, and has been for many years. He is the past president of the San Francisco Bowling association. He is also a life member. George and his wife, Helen, have lived on the Coast for almost eight years. He is the father of four grown children and the grandfather of twelve.

League scores: Sea Bowl Classic: Art Ross and Gabby Mattson were neck 'n' neck for both high series and game. Art won out with a 254-649. Gabby had a 253-643. Mixed Masters: Luther Swinney 221-583. Bob Serrano 189-522.

Pacific Federated Women: Sherry Goodwin had the high series of 180-481 and this put her one hundred pins over average. High game went to Emma Le Noue. Belles & Beaus: Don Zarnoch bowled a beautiful series. He started with a 212 and ended with a 620.

Aquanots: Splits were picked up all over the place and I will pass them on to you. Helen Farrell 3-5-6-10. Addie Hoyer 8-5-10. Edna Grubbaugh 4-8-10. Nat Beran 2-7-10 and Vera Berg 5-10. High game Corinne Patania 172. High series Becky Fox 487.

Ladies Thursday Scratch: Sandy Hillard is now a member of the 200 club, as she bowled a big 203-506 for high series. Carol Allen took top place in the high game of 222.

URCHINS: A group of little sea urchins got together and formed a new league of six teams of trios. This is their very first experience in league bowling. Marge Charlton led the series of the day with a 137-353. High game Darlene Jackson 157. Two spots are still available in this league so if you're a brand new bowler, you would qualify.

Tuesday Trios: For the second week of league play Bob Peterson had top game and series honors with 235-775. Beachcombers: Ron Jodsaas had the high series of 195-554. High game, Fred Lake 200. Sam Perrier picked up the 3-10-7. Red Perrier picked up the 6-7 pins and the 5-7.

Sea Breeze: Frank Allen and Bob Uhrig tied for high series with a 640. However Frank popped up to top place for the high game of 200. Pacifica Travelers: It almost came to photo finish for top game and series with Luther Swinney leading with a 225-598. Ray Miller had a 223-585.

John Mohr was the winner of $100 Sunday evening in the moonlight double drawing.

Serra Bowl

IN THE NEW Friday night St. Francis mixed five league Selu Silifaiva's 221-577 series led the South City Car Wash five to a 4-game sweep over Vince's Pizza house.

Pete Casias pounded the pins for fair in Friday Parkmerced action as he rolled up a 216-583 series to pace team No. 8 to a 3-1 win over team No. 5. Paul Gomez scored high in that loop with a 223-597 total as his team No. 9 defeated team No. 6 in a clean 4-game sweep.

In Foresters league play American Van lines scored a 4-game win over team No. 7 following the lead of Les Stitts who posted 227-588 to top the league last Thursday evening.

Top tally in the Ladies' "No Tap" competition this week belongs to Wendy Cohn, 127 average lass, who tumbled 541 and added 144 points handicap and grab first place with a handsome 685 trio.

Bankers league action was highlighted this week by the sharpshooting of Norman Dellatore who paced team No. 1 in a 2-1 decision over team No. 11 with a 257-595 total. In other play Bob Aring led team No. 7's scoring with a 200-574 series.

The high league score of the week was rolled in Knights of Columbus competition when Fred Breining put together games of 192, 231, and 189 for a towering 612 series as his Aces team was downed 2-1 by the Jacks.

In 750 Masters action Jim Bertucci blasted a 201-583 series in vain; team No. 1 rolled over Jim's team No. 5 for a 4-game victory.

Ed Walhard Jr. led the boys in the Automotive league with a fancy 231-578 series but his Waters Buick bunch suffered a 2-1 loss at the hands of Bill Brewer's gang.

Westlake Bowl

BOB TEGLAND was far from blue as he led the Blue Monday Scratch league with a big 233 game and 634 series.

Carrie Futrell had a banner day last Tuesday when she rolled high series of 480 in the St. Emydius league and also converted the 4-5-7 and 4-10 splits. High game honors went to Gerry Guisti with 205. Other split converters were Verna Brame the 3-5-7-10, Lee Rentschler the 5-10, and Etta Veller the 3-7-8.

City Doubles champion Ray Fisher hasn't lost his touch. Last Monday he led the Golden Gate Handicap with a 225 game and 597 series.

Flo Dillon rolled a big 213 game to lead the A-1 Nursery Invitational league in that department while Pat Garcia took high series with 506. Bette Levesque drew a round of applause as she converted with 5-10 split.

Westlake Bowlers are getting their dancing shoes ready for November 2 when the annual Halloween Costume No-Tap Sweeper and Dance will be held. Bowling will start at 7 p.m. with dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. and there will be prizes for high scores and the best costumes.

Bob Groat of the Westlake Junior 900 team received the 299 game award from the American Junior Bowling Congress last Saturday morning for his near-perfect game earlier this year. Bob's game was third highest in the nation among the 450,000 AJBC members.

Bonnie Birkett came very close to the six hundred mark as she topped the Ladies' 810 Scratch league for the week with a big 220 game and 595 series.

MARGE BEAUMONT and John Ferrara set the pace in the Southgate Mixed Fives as Marge rolled a 186 game and 524 series and John shot 200 and 544.

Next Sunday marks the closing date of the Westlake Team Handicap Tournament with guaranteed prizes of $750 first, $500 second and $400 third. Open to both men and women, entries will be accepted until midnight Sunday.

Two pins kept George Belles from membership in the six hundred club as, he led the Early Fives league for the week with a 221 game and 598 series.

Bernice Scanlon and Nancy Kraemer were the leading ladies in the YWCA league Tuesday morning as Bernice took high game honors with 185 and Nancy's 486 series gave her the tops in that department.

Our Junior bowlers are becoming experienced travelers. With our 900 Junior Masters leading their Sunday evening league and our Peninsula Travel league team in second place, four new teams are being formed for two new Saturday afternoon travel leagues. This competition provides an excellent basis for our Saturday morning Junior bowlers as they gain experience. Our Junior 900 team will meet the Castle team at Brentwood Bowl at 6 p.m. next Sunday.

Ram Runners Nip Jefferson

Westmoor High school won its most important cross-country meet of the season Thursday with a 23-33 decision over Jefferson in a North Peninsula league battle.

Varsity: Westmoor 23, Jefferson 33. Pinals (J) 10:57; 2. Beckers (W) 10:57; 3. Tracy (W) 10:59; 4. Bravos (W) 11:00.

Pacifica to Hold First Swim Meet

Terra Nova High school pool will be the site of the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation department First Annual All-Comers Swim Meet on Saturday. The pool, regularly open for public swimming, will be closed.

There will be six age groups of competition and events for girls and boys will be separated. Age groups are 8 and under, 9 and 10 years, 11 and 12 years, 13 and 14 years, 15 and 16 years, and 18 and over.

Events to be swum include freestyle, backstroke, breaststroke and individual medley which will include free time, backstroke, breaststroke and butterfly. There will be 48 events in all.

First, second and third place ribbons will be given to winners in each event. All first place winners will have their winning times placed on the record for the First Annual All-Comers Meet and these times will remain official pool records until they are broken in future event.

Entry fees will be 25 cents per event and should be paid at the time of registration. Registrations will be accepted at the City Hall until Friday. Registrations will also be taken at the pool between 11:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. on the day of the meet.

Length of the course will be 25 yard events for all children under 10 years of age, while the others will swim a 50-yard course being two lengths of the Terra Nova Pool.

Ram Frosh Blanks Jeff

The Westmoor frosh-soph football team rolled over Terra Nova in the first league game of the season, 38-0.

The Rams scored twice on punt returns, twice by passing and twice by rushing.

The punt returns were by Dave Dotur and Karl Fleishauer for 60 and 65 yards respectively. Dotur also ran in one touchdown.

Quarterback Ken Smith found Tom Duffy in the end zone for a 32-yard pass play and later Mario Orta repeated the act to Matt DeBernardi for 20 yards and paydirt.

Peter Frates scored the other touchdown. The Rams rolled 375 yards against the Jefferson frosh, according to coach Bob Lotti, and all 70 of the Rams saw action for two quaters.

Ram Cagers Defeat Jeff

The Westmoor High school lightweight cagers scored a double victory over Jefferson last week in North Peninsula league C and D action.

Guy Aronson's 11 points led the D's to a 35-18 victory over the Jeffs. In the class C game, Steve Sunseri pumped through 15 points to pace the junior Rams to a 37-24 victory over the Indians.

Youth Honor S.S.F. Day

The Moose Lodge in South San Francisco will sponsor Youth Honor Day throughout the city Monday in connection with a national observance of all Moose lodges.

Mayor Patrick Ahern has officially proclaimed the day Youth Honor day.

Highlight of the observance will be a Halloween Costume party and parade in front of the South San Francisco Police department from 1 to 5 p.m. Monday.

According to Moose officer Lee McLaughlin of Lodge 2064, all children accompanied by parents are invited.

The festivities will include hobbing for apples, movies, prizes for costumes and refreshments.

The pre-Halloween theme will stress good clean fun on Halloween night, McLaughlin said.

New Citizens Look at U.S.

By SUE SHERMAN

Virtually an international "melting pot," Westmoor High school boasts an enrollment which includes 73 students born in 29 foreign countries.

While many of these pupils have been United States residents a good part of their lives, several have only recently been introduced to the American way of life.

Two such girls are English-born junior Cheryl Ogilvie and Chinese-born sophomore Margaret Wong, who have both lived in America for approximately one year.

Born and raised in London, England, Cheryl currently corresponds on tape with family and friends across the ocean, although she never expects to live there permanently again.

Leaving her birthplace in Shanghai, China, as a small child, Margaret moved with her family to Hong Kong, where she lived for nine years, attending both Chinese and British schools. Three years in Cambodia studying in an American embassy school preceded her move to America.

Because her father, who works for the U.S. government, is transferred frequently, Margaret and her family will be soon leaving again for the Far East.

WESTMOOR is the first American school attended by the girls and both enthusiastically agree that the "great friendliness" of teachers and fellow students, the "vastness of the school," the "variation of subjects," and the "tremendous school spirit" impressed them most when they first arrived.

Cheryl marveled at how "each teacher has such a thorough knowledge of his subject," while Margaret especially noticed that Westmoor teachers "treat the students as individuals and take a personal interest in them. They try to help and understand them."

As both girls wore uniforms at previous schools, they were quite surprised at the casual dress allowed at Westmoor. In addition, they welcomed the system where students have freedom to move from class to class.

Both girls have previously attended schools where the large class size made it mandatory that students remain in the same class all day and teachers come to them.

Perhaps the biggest difference Cheryl and Margaret found between their respective school systems and that of America is the comparatively "idealistic" objective of education here.

Margaret points out that American students are urged to "learn for the sake of learning," while Chinese pupils are taught only to memorize routine subject material, with no hope of comprehension, "for the sole purpose of getting good grades on a test."

Similarly, Cheryl says that English schools do not operate to impart knowledge for its own sake. Instead, school serves the practical purpose of preparing the student for the working world, which he usually enters at the age of fifteen.

"Thus," Cheryl explains, "things are so pushed onto you... there is so much pressure on the student as a prospective worker. He is not merely allowed to be a student."

MARGARET is also glad to forget Chinese disciplinary practices which included unified chanting of "Good morning Miss... and punishments where, for example, offending students were made to stand on a chair in front of the class holding their ears. Therefore, she greatly appreciates the warm, informal mood allowed by Westmoor teachers, as does Cheryl, who remembers that English instructors created a rather "staid and rigid" classroom atmosphere.

Power Failure In Daly City

Approximately 1600 homes in Daly City were without electricity Sunday afternoon at 3:15 p.m. as an underground cable along Westlake Plaza broke down.

Pacific Gas and Electric officials said service was resumed for 45 percent of the homes by 3:57 p.m. and to 75 percent by 5 p.m.

SPINACH BASE

Ever serve creamed chicken, turkey or tuna over cooked spinach? Good flavor combination.

Pacifica Rejects Service Station

Pacifica planning commissioners move to halt the encroachment of additional business establishments into residential areas Monday night when they turned down an application for a second service station on Linda Mar boulevard and for a pet hospital on the east side of California highway in the Sharp Park area.

Some 40 Linda Mar residents appeared to speak both pro and con on an application of Alfred C. Bertolino to construct a service station on the northeast corner of Linda Mar boulevard and Seville drive on a lot now zoned for agriculture.

Monday night's arguments were similar to those earlier this year in which the city attempted unsuccessfully to halt construction of a service station in the same area on Adobe drive.

According to a report from Planning Consultant Edward Robinson there is "no justification" for "extending commercial zoning at this intersection." Those speaking for and against the proposal were evenly divided, however.

Also turned down, this time by a five to one vote, was an application of Gordon W. Hanson to establish a small animal hospital at the northeast corner of Brighton road and a freeway frontage street. A majority of the commission agreed that commercial development should be kept on the west side of the highway in the Sharp Park area.

An application of Thomas J. Wisbey and Frederick Wilson for a use permit for the "Snackette Restaurant" on the west side of Cabrillo highway in the Linda Mar area was continued until December 23 after notice was received from the state division of highways that the proposed restaurant is in the middle of a right of way for a future freeway.

In other actions, commissioners approved the rezoning of 10.84 acres north of Terra Nova High school and east of Mason drive and Victoria way from agricultural to residential to permit development of a new 38-home subdivision.

Approved a tentative map of the new Fairmont 2-C tract of approximately 100 homes.

Denied an application of Charles T. Cadjow to reduce the size of his rear lot at 31 Santa Rosa avenue.

Soccer Play Is Underway
The Colma fifth and sixth grade soccer league sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department began Monday, under the direction of Bob Mannini and Tom Pollicita.

The league consists of four teams of eight-nine members per team. The teams were given one week of soccer instructions and began league play Monday.

Teams and captains are as follows: Red Devils — Billy Lee; Colma Seals — Larry Cassidy; Red Rammers — Ray Montalbano; Vikings — Rich Salgado.

The Colma Seals defeated the Red Devils 3-0 with perfect boots by Salgado.

The Vikings tied 3-3 with the Red Rammers who came from behind a score of 3-0. Gentle scored all 3 goals for the Vikings while Di Maggio and O'Neal scored for the Red Rammers.

Wednesday, the Colma Seals won another one 6-2 behind the play of Max Martinez. Taylor scored two goals for the Vikings.

Thursday, the Red Devils beat the Vikings 5-3 and the Red Rammers defeated the Colma Seals 3-3 with Regino scoring four goals for the Red Rammers. Friday saw the Colma Seals defeat the Red Devils 6-2 while the Red Rammers beat the Vikings 5-1.

Vandals Hit Westmoor High

Vandals did an estimated $249 in damage at Westmoor High school in Daly City Friday night, police reported.

Between 8 and 9:30 p.m., the vandals ripped the padding from three football practice sleds and painted obscene words on storage sheds located on the field.

The vandals then painted obscene words with fingernail polish on approximately 45 parked cars of students going to night school at Westmoor.

Play Tryouts To Continue
Tryouts and preliminary readings for the Daly City recreation department's Teen Drama Workshop's production of "The Clown Who Ran Away" continues as director Nedra Merrick completes her casting for this children's play.

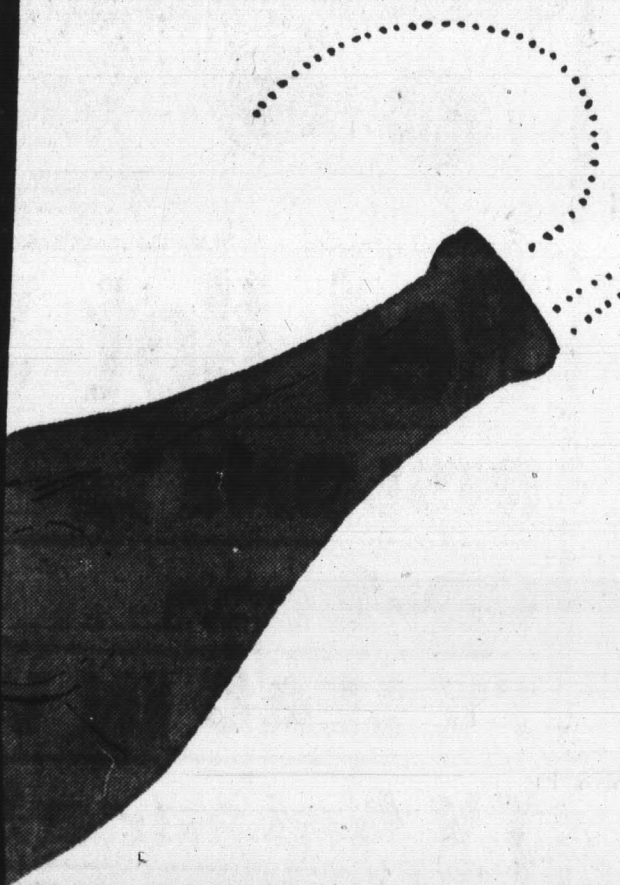

All interested 7-12 graders are welcome to attend the tryouts for this play slated for performances early in 1964 before various local children's audiences.

Rehearsals are held every Saturday morning from 9 a.m. to noon at the Westmoor park clubhouse, 123 Edgemont drive.

Additional rehearsals and a workshop for set construction and costume making are held Thursday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Westlake park clubhouse.

Twenty players are needed for the play as well as many assistants for backstage work. All junior and senior high school students are welcome to join the drama workshop program.

Additional information may be obtained by calling the recreation department at PL 5-0850, Extension 35, or 18.

Columbus School Wins Competition

Christopher Columbus school won the annual competition during Fire Prevention week in Daly City last week.

The school scored high in the time competitions during fire drills at all the schools and sixth grade student Laurie Beck's winning safety poster added to the school's point total.

In the drawing contest sponsored by the fire department the winners were:

Third grade — Victoria Vigil of Woodrow Wilson and Kristin O'Neil of Pauline Brown.

Fourth grade — Sandra Radzinski of Colma K-6 and Raymond Taylor of Vista Mar.

Fifth grade — Rhonda Bowerman and Janet Plant of Thomas Edison.

Sixth grade — Laurie Beck of Christopher Columbus and John Walsh of Fernando Rivera.

Seventh grade — Donald Castonou of Our Lady of Mercy school and Mike Casey of Ben Franklin.

Eighth grade — Greg Peters and Wendy Rosenberg of Ben Franklin.

Judging of the posters was done by Mrs. Helen Cordel, art coordinator of the Jefferson Elementary school district; Anthony Newhoff of the California Automobile association and Battalion Chief Frank Specht, Fire Prevention Bureau of the Daly City Fire department.

The winning posters are on display at the Jefferson Elementary School district offices at 101 Lincoln avenue.

Tops With Firemen

Baptists Hold Layman Day In Westlake

Layman's Sunday was held this past weekend at the Westlake Baptist church following a week of revival services conducted by Dr. H. Hansel Stemberge Jr.

The men's choir furnished the musical program with Mrs. Ivyle Lederer as organist. Men participating in the service were Chester Thomas, Donald Brown, John Hergert, Rodney Schaubroeck and Col. Albert Butler. Special layman speakers were: Donald Mann, Raymond McGowan and William White.

White, chairman of the board of Christian education, made his appointments of teachers for the nursery through adult groups. They are: nursery group, Barbara Phillips, Lucille Saunders and Rita Leederer; kindergarten Ruby Gilmore, Marsha Staten; primary I, Virpal Collins; primary II, Bonnie Hansen, Betty Wiener; primary III, Eleanor Jessup; junior VI, Mrs. Stanley Straube.

Junior superintendent, Mrs. George Marshall; junior high, Mr. and Mrs. Don Mann; ninth grade, William Zarubin; senior high, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Foreman; young adult, Dr. H. Hansel Stemberge; adult, Col. Albert Butler; secretaries, Mrs. Frank Tiernan and Carolyn Bingham; assembly pianists, LeAnn McGowan, Barbara Taylor, H. H. Stemberge and Mrs. Ivyle Lederer.

Hope Church Takes Part In Service

Hope Lutheran church is among the Bay Area Lutheran churches which are sponsoring the annual Reformation Festival Service at Grace Cathedral in San Francisco Sunday at 3 p.m.

Hope church's choir will be a part of the massed adult choir which, with a combined children's choir and trumpet accompaniment, will provide special choral music. Kenneth Ahrens of Monterey will be at the Cathedral organ.

The Rev. Henry G. Hartner, pastor of First Trinity Lutheran church, Oakland, will deliver an address on the topic: "Saved By Grace Through Faith."

The Rev. Armin H. Polster, pastor of Hope Lutheran church, Daly City, will be the lecturer, and the Rev. James Sudbrook, St. John's Lutheran church, San Francisco, will be the officiant.

The service will begin with a procession in which all Lutheran clergymen of the area will participate in full vestments.

Pastor Polster said "This service will be reminiscent of the traditional festival observances historically held in the great Lutheran cathedrals of Europe. I am certain that anyone attending will leave the cathedral with a renewed appreciation of the glory of the Christian faith."

B'nai Israel In Last Exent

A farewell social salute to the congregation is being planned by the Sisterhood of B'nai Israel Saturday, November 2 at 8 p.m.

It will be the last social event premises. The temple is being torn down to make way for the Knowles-Los Banos avenue road project.

Cable Car Casuals of Westlake and games are on the agenda for the evening.

For reservations contact chairman Mrs. George Ehrlich at PL 6-7350 or Mrs. Julius Michaelis at PL 6-7316. Donations are $3 per couple.

B'nai Israel To Honor Children

Rabbi Solomon Shore's sermon will be "The Story of the Flood" at Temple B'nai Israel Friday at 8:30 p.m.

All the children of the congregation celebrating their birthdays during the months of September and October will be honored.

They are: Beverly Anspach, Sharon Bromley, Sandra Frucht, Beverly Hoffman, Ronald LaPedit, Glenn Mayer, Debby will provide fashions for the event. Refreshments, door prizes, Harvey Welsh, Lois Hart, Richard Kass, Sherrie Krow, William Levine and Larry Yamon.

Sisterhood Plans Meeting

The group will begin planning for the rummage sale. For pickup or information call chairman Mrs. Shirley Talmadge at PL 6-7846 or Mrs. Ruth Bromley at WY 2-4711.

Church Fetes Anniversary

Bethlehem Lutheran church will celebrate the first anniversary of the opening of their doors Sunday.

It was just one year ago that 168 people gathered for the first service at the Pacific Heights school. Bethlehem serves North San Bruno, East and North Pacifica and Westborough.

A special reformation observance will be the highlight of the day. Pastor George S. Johnson will speak on "A Rebellious Man of God." Sunday school at both 9:45 and 11 a.m. will give special emphasis to our heritage and our responsibility as sons of the reformation.

Bethlehem has grown in one year to 240 baptized members and is still holding services in the Pacific Heights school.

Church Group Plans Party

The monthly meeting of the Christian Couples club, Westlake Lutheran church, will be a Hal-loween party Sunday at 7 p.m. at the church, according to Mr. and Mrs. Leo Douglas, chairmen of the club.

Hostesses for the evening with the Douglasses are Mr. and Mrs. Al Keil.

The officers of the Luther league will attend a training clinic at 2:30 p.m. at the Los Altos.

A reformation festival service will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Grace cathedral. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the Lutheran Church in America, past president of the Lutheran World Federation, will be guest speaker. A combined choir from Lutheran churches in the area will sing.

Dinner Set At Church

A chicken dinner with all the trimmings is being planned by the Women's association of the church, Mrs. James Hamilton, president, announced today.

The dinner will be held November 8 in the social hall of the church. It will include relishes, fruit, potatoes, green beans, french bread and a selection of cakes.

Proceeds of the dinner will go toward the new M. Pauline Brown Memorial Organ fund. Mrs. Rex Spruiell is chairman of the event and Mrs. Carlos Mattson is in charge of the dining room.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Tom House at PL 5-5593. Donations to the fund are $2.50 for adults and one dollar for children under 10. For further information call Mrs. Kenneth Gillespie, PL 5-5123.

$2000 in Prizes to Be Given Away in Westlake

Bonus awards in the amount of $2000 are in store for Westlake Shopping center customers tomorrow night when a majority of the Westlake merchants swing into their second week of three night openings — Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Tomorrow night six free drawings will be held at 7, 8, 8:30, 9, and 9:30 p.m. Eighteen wrist watches, 100 silver dollars plus many more valuable prizes will be given free to lucky Westlake shoppers, according to shopping center officials.

Shoppers may secure free entry tickets from any one of the Westlake merchants who are open Thursday night after 6 p.m.

The 100 silver dollars will be given in two drawings, $50 at 8:30 p.m. and $50 at 9:30 p.m. All prize must be claimed by 9:30 p.m. each Thursday night.

Objective of the Thursday night giveaway program, merchants said, is to acquaint Westlake shoppers with the new three night opening schedule. In the past the shopping center has been open only on Wednesday's and Friday's until 9 o'clock. Last week most center merchants initiated the three night policy — Wednesday, Thursday Friday — and are remaining open until 9:30 p.m.

PAL Pirates Top Tigers For Upset

The big game of the week in the fifth grade touch football league was the PAL Pirates win over the PAL Tigers.

Going into the game as slight favorites, the Tigers failed to generate the scoring punch necessary for the win.

After a Tiger dominated first half, Jack Haston opened the second half with a 45-yard touchdown run to break the Tigers' offense. Odie Chavez, Rich Washford and Tony Petillo kept the pressure on the Tigers and Big Mike Lucchessi caught Brad Perroni behind the Tiger goal for another two points.

The Tiger defense showed a lot of strength. Steve Azzerlo, Tim Buckley, Timmy Tomasello and Dan Proctor all fought the good fight. Pirates 8, Tigers 0.

Sharing top spot in the league is the OLPH Bugs.

This week the PAL Rams fell before the Bugs 25-0. Barry Clark tossed 2 TD bombs to Mike Galli while both Tommy Lujan and Clark ran over scores.

Mike Egan's PAL Cougars clawed their way to a 7-0 win over the BYA Renegades. Kim Blake made the one big touchdown on an end run. Blake then passed to Richard Manning for the PAT.

Other Cougars playing good ball were Mike Coker, Jack Gussito, Gene Ghilarducci and the rough touch Egan brothers. Bright moments for the Renegades were a 40-yard punt return by Albert Abbott, an intercepted pass and a 25-yard return by David Glass and the passing of Farrar to Mannina.

The BYA Blues picked up a win via the forfeit from the Holy Angels Lions. The Lions are unable to come up with a coach so it looks like they will be dropping from the league.

GUITAR STOLEN

An electric guitar, valued at $400, was stolen from John Gregory, 961 Hanover street, as he was in the process of moving from 903 Hanover street last week.

Drawing for New Falcon In 3rd Week

Skyline Plaza Shopping center's "Fall Festival" promotion entered its third week today and already more than 5000 persons have received their drawing tickets for the 1964 Ford Falcon, according to Ray Forcina, merchants association president.

Drawing for the new car will be held Friday, November 8. In addition to secondary prizes amounting to more than $1500 in value, a special bonus award of 100 gallons of gasoline will be given along with the new automobile. In order to be eligible for the bonus award, patrons of the shopping center must have their drawing tickets validated at any Skyline Plaza store, Forcina explained.

Tickets are available free at booths in the shopping center.

Additional prizes include 14 men's and women's wrist watches and a $150 barbecue set.

The prizes will be awarded at two drawings on the evening of November 8.

Eagles Down Colts, 33-0

Rolling down the glory trail like a runaway cement truck, the PAL Eagles flattened the Holy Angels Colts with a 33-0 win in the sixth grade football loop.

Fred Balletto started the scoring with a 10-yard run into the end zone and Burth Bonavito ran over for the PAT. Bonavito passed a 25 yarder to Mike Conaty for 6 more points then ran over the PAT.

The defense took their turn when Russ Frederico intercepted a Colt pass and went 40 yards for a TD.

Balletto then took to the air and Bonavito pulled in a 20 yard TD pass.

The final score came on a 25 yard TD run by Bonavito who crossed the goal line five times during the game and passed over it once. For the Colts, Mark Fillmore and Bob Gordon stood out.

Vikings Top For Victory Braves 13-0

Steve Kirby started the scoring for his PAL Vikings in the seventh and eighth grade touch football leagues when he caught a PAL Brave runner behind the goal for 2 points.

Junior Rebarber hit Gary Ciardella on a sideline pass for 40 yards and a TD.

The next Viking score came when Ron Hackett took a direct pass from center. He ran to the strong side then cut back and raced 57 yards for paydirt. Final: Vikings 14, PAL Braves 0.

The Bender Roofing Cats illustrated the value of an outstanding defense in their game with the OLPH Wildcats. Joel Carrara tossed to Don Getchel for the first score of the game. The Wildcats came back and struck through the air first on a pass from Guglielmoni to McGuire on a 50 yards TD. Then he passed for a 25-yard to Tom Neary.

From this point on, it was all Bender Roofing Cat defense. Carrara intercepted a Wildcat pass and tied up the score with his run. In the second half, the Bender Cats' defensive line took over. After pushing OLPH back to their goal line, Abbott recovered a fumble in the end zone to take the Roofers ahead 18-6.

A little later "Topcat" Carrara picked off another Wildcat aerial and went all the way. He passed to Guzman for the extra point. Final: Bender Roofing Cats 25, OLPH Wildcats 12.

Eighth grade action saw the favored PAL Bears edge out a determined Holy Angels Giants in a classic 7-6. PAL Bears opened the scoring midway in the first half with a 30-yard aerial to end Tom Grady.

In the second half, Holy Angels countered with a 60-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Ralph Fonseca to Don Beluomini for the deadlock. The kicking of Phil Dupont was another of the game's highlights.

The fine defensive work of John O'Deal, Don Thomason and Chuck Gerrigthy was largely responsible for containing the vaunted PAL attack.

Department Sets Hallow'n Dance

The Daly City Recreation department is again sponsoring its annual Hallow'en dance for high school students.

Open to all Jefferson and Westmoor high school students, the dance is scheduled for 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. at the War Memorial Community center on Hallow'en night.

Admission to the affair will be by student body cards or Hi-Fi Teen club cards. Cost will be 25 cents.

Featured on the program will be the awarding of prizes for costumes, which are optional, special dance contests and a door prize. Refreshments will be sold and dancing will be to records.

Judea Rabbi To Discuss Catholics

Temple Judea Rabbi Herbert Morris will discuss "The Changing Catholic Church" at the congregation's regular meeting Friday evening at 8:30 in the temple at 95 South Mayfair avenue.

In discussing his sermon topic for Friday night, Rabbi Morris stated, "For the first time since the birth of the Catholic church, the opportunity for a Jewish-Catholic dialogue has been created. The influence of the church not only extends to those who are Catholic. Catholic thought and action have decidedly influenced the manner and moral of the entire world."

The Christian church has always been viewed as a daughter of Judaism. In seeking to understand the deliberations that are currently taking place in Rome, and its effect on the Jewish community, Rabbi Morris will develop the theme of Jewish-Catholic relationships.

Rabbi Morris recently took part in an Interfaith Forum held at St. Boniface Catholic church, San Francisco. This week the rabbi is representing the board of rabbis of Northern California at the Interfaith conference being held at the Callambresia Retreat center in Menlo Park.

Mormons Set Indian Talk

Mrs. Zula Brinkerhoff, of Zion National park, will compare the Book of Mormon to the American Indians at a meeting at the San Francisco Sake House, Hillside and Brunswick streets in Daly City Friday at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Brinkerhoff has lived among and studied the American Indians. In her talk she will compare their traditions and legends to the Book of Mormon, a record of three distinct migrations of Israelites from Palestine to the American continent.

She will speak on the history of inhabitants of South, Central and North Americas.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

IF AN APPLE a day keeps the doctor away, the doctors in the area must be looking for something to do with all their leisure time. For the markets are just full and running over with apples of every color and kind. And the price is right!

While preparing this column I did some research and learned a lot about this delightful fruit I'd like to share with you.

The Columbia Encyclopedia tells us that it is a member of the rose family, is of Asiatic and European origin, and has been cultivated since prehistoric times.

Introduced into North America by the early white settlers, apples are grown in most every state in the union. The largest apple field in the United States is owned by Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia. (This does not necessarily mean apples are for the birds). And apples grown in America are shipped all over the world.

The Red Delicious is the top selling apple in the United States. And justly so, for its name describes it perfectly. In fact it looks just like the pictures we see in our children's ABC books under A.

Apples are wonderfully delicious eaten raw. But they also adapt themselves to cooking like no other fruit and have more different ways of appearing on our table. Here's a rich apple pie to try on your family tonight.

CARAMEL APPLE PIE

Pastry
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup shortening
¼ cup water

Mix flour, salt; cut in shortening, sprinkle with water and mix with fork. Press into ball; divide into halves. Round up one half on lightly floured cloth-covered board. Flatten slightly. Roll out 1 inch larger than inverted pie pan. Ease into pan. Trim edge.

FILLING

1 cup brown sugar (packed)
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons flour
6 cups sliced apples
¼ cup firm butter

Mix sugar, cinnamon, flour. Mix lightly through apples. Heap in pastry-lined pan. Cover with thin slices of butter. Roll out top crust. Place over apples. Trim edge. Flute. Make 3 or 4 small slits near center. Bake 50 to 60 minutes in 425 degree oven.

THIS RECIPE for Apple Dumplings has been a favorite of mine for a long time and came to me from Mrs. Louise Ledwick, 341 Monroe drive, Palo Alto.

APPLE DUMPLINGS

6 apples
Baking Powder Biscuit
2 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
6 tablespoons shortening
½ cup milk

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together and cut in shortening. Add milk and mix quickly. Knead for a few seconds on lightly floured board. Roll dough into rectangle ¼ inch thick. Cut into 6 squares. Core apples and place one in center of each pastry square. Fill center with following mixture.

FILLING

2 tablespoons margarine (melted)
½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg

Now bring the corners together at the top. Moisten edges and pinch together to hold apple in place. Place in large shallow, greased baking pan and bake in 450-degree oven 10 minutes. Then lower to 350 degrees and bake 40 minutes longer. During baking baste with this syrup 3 or 4 times.

½ cup white syrup
¼ cup water
3 tablespoons butter

You may serve these apple dumplings plain, with lemon sauce, vanilla sauce or ice cream. Let your calorie conscience be your guide.

AN ADDED thought on these dumplings. I realize that the length of the recipe and the different mixtures make it sound rather difficult. But it really isn't and the results are so delicious and pleasing to see that it's worth any added effort.

Don't have your apples too large, this way you will be sure to have enough pastry to cover them fully. After you've made them a few times you can use larger apples for you then know to "stretch the material" to fit the apples.

Lunch and Fashions

MARY'S HELP HOSPITAL GUILD presented its last fall luncheon and fashion show at the Olympic Country club last Wednesday. Fashions and models were presented by San

DAILY CITY — PACIFICA — COLMA

Oceana PTA Hillcrest Circle Sets Auction In Joint Meeting

The Oceana High school P-TA will be holding a "Country Auction" Saturday in the gymnasium from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The auction is part of the P-TA's efforts to raise $300 for scholarships to give to students. Donations of articles are needed, according to Mrs. Olga Goff, publicity chairman. There will also be a "country-style" snack bar. Students are selling tickets at 35 cents each or three for a dollar.

A while elephant table and a plant table will also be in the gymnasium.

More information may be obtained by calling FL 5-6111 or FL 5-2488.

The Hillcrest Circle of Druids met with several other circles last week to honor Archdruidess Rosini Mazzoni of the Grand Circle of California and Nevada on her official visit to Green Valley Circle.

Three new members were initiated. Mrs. Laura Bucelli was brought into Hillcrest Circle and Grand Harold Raymond Patrone and Grand trustee Paul Morales into Green Valley Circle.

The Hillcrest Circle will hold its annual costume Halloween party and potluck dinner Monday at 3346 San Jose avenue following the meeting at 7 p.m.

Crittenton Sets Show

The North Peninsula circle of the Florence Crittenton home will hold a "Fall Fantasy" fashion luncheon November 6 at noon, at Forest Hill lodge in San Francisco, according to president Mrs. Peter Markovich.

Commentator for the show will be Sarann Daly, coordinator of fashions at the Fashion Shop in the Westlake Shopping center. The Fashion Shop will provide the fashions along with furs from Menudri Furs of West Portal.

Models will be Mrs. Edward Odenthal, Mrs. Warren Hutchins, Mrs. Nello Funai, Mrs. Mario Mangini, Mrs. Michael Orlich, Mrs. Philip Glebow, Mrs. Arthur Colman, Mrs. Charles Piggio, Mrs. C. M. Stringer, Mrs. Frank Lawson, Mrs. Bernard Lyett and Mrs. Thomas Bocci.

Huge Turnout For 'Back to School Night'

Over 400 parents attended the "Back to School Night" held at Thomas Edison school. After a short business meeting, Mrs. Robert Hansen, president of the P-TA presented past principal Harry Aronson with a gift and "many thanks" from the unit.

John Belforte, principal, introduced his staff of teachers. Parents of kindergarten through third grade children assembled in their respective classrooms to hear about the school program and progress of each class.

The parents of the upper grade students heard about the school curriculum.

Jobs Daughters Hold Potluck

Bethel No. 183 of the International Order of Jobs Daughters will hold a pot luck dinner 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. at the Masonic Temple on Van Ness avenue in San Francisco.

Judges Named For Art Show

Members of the Art guild of Pacifica have invited three outstanding Bay Area artists to judge entries in the Art guild's fourth annual Formal Fine Arts and Crafts Exhibit to be presented to the public on November 2 and 3 at Pedro Point.

Besides offering their works for sale and display, artists will be competing for a total of 10 cash, merchandise and ribbon awards to be presented by distinguished judging panel including Nevin Kempthorne of Novato, Mary Bailey of San Mateo, and William Sale of Hayward.

Entries will be classified into two categories — paintings, and other media; and a first, second, third and honorable mention award winner will be chosen from each category.

In addition, a $25 cash "Guild Award" will be given to the artist whose entry is voted most popular by Art guild members. The public will also have a chance to voice its opinion, since each person in attendance will be encouraged to cast a ballot for his favorite entry.

Edison Officers

A student body election, complete with banners and speeches was held by Thomas Edison school recently.

The winners are: Nancy Seager, president; Russell Byers, vice president, and Susan Hoffinger, secretary.

Exhibit chairman is Louis Hays, winner of last year's "Guild Award."

The public is invited to attend the exhibit, without charge, at the historic Pedro Point firehouse on Saturday and Sunday, November 2 and 3, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Jefferson

P-TA Panel

Program Held

The Jefferson High school P-TA program, "Focus on Home and School Cooperation," proved highly appreciated by the many parents, teachers, and students who participated.

Panel speakers who initiated the discussion were: Steven Willis, student body president; Toni Mattucci, senior class president; Alan Rigler, parent; Elizabeth Hall, teacher. Each presented his approach to such points as mutual respect, what is expected of the parent, the teacher, and the student, and the drop out problem.

Mrs. A. J. Hulse, president, requested volunteers for the following: Hospitality chairman, Founders' Day chairman, ways and means chairman, and helpers for the dance committee.

Mrs. A. C. Liberato, publicity chairman, will leave soon to join her husband at his new post in Fort Biss, Tex.

Clowning It Up

COMEDIENNE Phyllis Diller shows mock horror at a wig as she jokes with two Daly City women helping plan a Golden Gate Kindergarten association auxiliary rummage sale November 26 at the Hall of Flowers in San Francisco. A special celebrity corner will be set up for the sale and will feature items donated by celebrities. Miss Diller donated one of her pillbox hats for the sale. The two Daly City women are Mrs. John A. Gansloser, left, holding Miss Diller's hat, and Mrs. Murray H. Freedman. The auxiliary helps support two nursery schools that provide day care for needy children.

Rummage Sale Is Scheduled

A rummage sale, sponsored by the Central Peninsula O.R.T. will be held Wednesday at the Old Firehouse, 618 San Mateo avenue in San Bruno from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Mrs. Stewart Feldstein, rummage sale chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Bert Phillips and Mrs. Robert Mendelson, cochairmen.

Anyone wishing to donate clothing, furniture, jewelry or other items may arrange to have them picked up by calling Mrs. Jerome Karp, PL 6-3264, Mrs. Phillips, JU 3-5338 or Mrs. Feldstein, 589-8762.

THE FRIDAY MORNING YWCA bridge group, which has been having difficulty locating a permanent meeting place since the closing of the Westlake Bowl's large dining room, has finally found a "home," according to bridge group co-ordinator Mrs. Lewis Johnson.

The group will continue to meet at 9:30 a.m. each Friday but the site has been changed to the Lincoln Park club house on the corner of Acton and Brunswick.

The other "Y" bridge club hasn't changed its meeting place, the ladies continue to gather at 9:30 at the War Memorial building, but they have changed from straight contract bridge playing to contract bridge played in the duplicate manner.

Mrs. Robert Battaglia, co-ordinator for the Wednesday group, explains that this means that the tables all play the same hands just as is done in tournament play. This gives the players a chance to compare their playing and stores and improve their bridge technique, she said.

According to Mrs. Battaglia, the group is still accepting new members and individuals interested in playing with the club should contact her, PL 6-6453, for details.

MRS. NORMAN WOLFF, publicity director for the Commodore Sloat Country Carnival has issued an invitation to North San Mateo county residents to pay a visit to "countryfied doin's" being planned for Saturday, December 7.

The event, which will take place in Sloat school located at Ocean Avenue at Nineteenth Avenue in San Francisco, will feature country style goodies, games and gifts as well as many surprises for the younger set.

"We have planned this carnival for a Saturday," Mrs. Wolff said, "so that whole families may come to the day long festivities and so that people who live out of the immediate area of the school may come. We particularly hope to see many people there from Daly City, Westlake, Colma and Pacifica."

THE COMMUNITY CHORUS will perform in the first of its regularly scheduled fall programs on November 6, according to Patti Stolz, chorus director.

The occasion will be the monthly meeting of the Benjamin Franklin P-TA and the chorus will share the program with the superintendent of the Jefferson Elementary school district, Dr. Richard Foster.

Because the engagement will take place so close to Armistice Day the chorus will open its program with the only existing vocal arrangement of the Pledge of Allegiance. Also included in the program will be "Some Enchanted Evening," "You are Beautiful," "The Three Bills" and the "Yellow Rose of Texas."

"We have a very exciting agenda of events this fall," Mrs. Stolz said, "and one engagement that I am very enthused about is a television program which will feature the Daly City Chorus. I am meeting with Caryl Coleman of KPIX on November 4 to complete a program of selections for us to perform on a special holiday season show."

THE PACIFICA Community Chorus, under the direction of Kenneth Au Young, is busily preparing to present its sixth annual Christmas concert on Sunday December 15, according to chorus publicity director Mrs. David K. Marvin.

The chorus will be presenting the beautiful Messiah by Handel for the holiday program and the rehearsals are now under way.

"The season's first rehearsal was held last Friday night in the music room of Oceana High school but it still isn't too late for people to join as many new voices are needed to continue the steady growth of the choir and to replace several former members who have moved from the community. People who like to sing and can either read the score or learn their parts outside of rehearsals are urged to begin this week and attend the Friday evening rehearsals at Oceana from 8 p.m. until 10 p.m.," Mrs. Marvin said.

THE SEASON of the nightly "cook out" is almost over for another year and so the ladies of Grace circle at Pacifica First United Presbyterian church—the Little Brown church—are planning the first official "cook in" for Friday night, according to Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan.

Mrs. Calhan reports that an untold number of "woman hours" will be spent preparing a sumptuous meal of braised sirloin tips or fish and the accompanying dishes.

Dinner will be served in the church from 5:15 p.m. until 8:15 p.m. The dinner will cost $1.75 for adults or children's plates are available for the youngsters for only .75, Mrs. Calhan said.

ONE OF the very interesting art objects that members of the Pacifica Artists home and studio tour will be viewing on Sunday is a redwood head, over 2 feet tall which was recently presented to Mrs. Sherri Thomas of Pacifica by the reknown sculptor William Lee.

The piece, entitled "Patriarch—Age, Wisdom and Knowledge," was one of the heads exhibited at a recent Pacifica Artists guild meeting by Lee, one of the outstanding students of Emil Janel. (Janel has had a continuous exhibit in the Maxwell gallery in San Francisco for 15 years.)

Rivera Math Talk Slated Westlake Maps Parish Festival

The second meeting of the Fernando Rivera, P-TA Parent-Education group will be held October 31, 10:30 a.m. in the multi-purpose room of the school.

Mrs. Carol Dawson, principal, will review some of the material given at the first meeting and will explore further material for parents interested in learning more about the math methods used in the elementary district now.

PINEAPPLE CABBAGE Green cabbage, shredded extremely thin, is delicious with tidbits of pineapple and a dressing of half-mayonnaise and half sour cream.

Pre-festival events that are going to be held soon are: house parties, Christmas decoration sale, and cookie-candy sale.

P-TA Chooses Home-School Link Theme

"The P-TA—Link Between the Home and School" is the theme chosen by the Crocker-Pershing P-TA for the school year, according to President Al Parodi.

The P-TA is holding a membership drive which will end October 31. Banners will be given to the school and class which has the highest percentage of parent membership.

Ways and Means chairman Mrs. Richard Torres said an ice cream sale will be held every Friday noon. A rag drive will continue through October.

Edward Mosconi and Dr. Bernhard Gerdes, principal of the Crocker and Pershing schools, respectively, were introduced.

Officers this year are Parodi, president; Mosconi and Gerdes, honorary vice presidents; Mrs. Harold Heisch, vice president; Inez Strauch, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Boyd, treasurer; Mrs. John Laioza, auditor; Mrs. Elsie Berg, historian, and Mrs. Al Parodi, parliamentarian.

Spaghetti Dinner Set

The Hillside P-TA will hold a spaghetti dinner at tomorrow's meeting at 6:30 a.m. in the multi-use room. A regular meeting will follow the dinner.

Tickets are available at the school offices of Colma Intermediate and Colma K-6. Donations of $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children 12 will be used to pay expenses of the P-TA for the coming year.

Member Fete Set by Group

Seven Hills B'nai B'rith Women will hold their annual Membership Affair tonight at the Lake Merced Boathouse at 8 p.m.

"Marchers of the Round Table," a play will be presented by the members and a well-known interior decorator will give some decorating tips.

For further information call Mrs. Esther LaPied at WY 2-2454 or Mrs. Bella Seligman at PL 6-4247.

Logan-Mann Rites Held

Judith Ann Logan became Mrs. Dennis Arnold Mann in recent nuptials held at the Lakeside Presbyterian church in San Francisco.

Judith Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Logan of Daly City, chose an off white peau de soie gown with an Alencon lace panel, long pointed sleeves and a chapel train. She carried a handkerchief belonging to her great, great-grandmother. When in Venice, Italy, the bride chose her crown of pearls and lily of the valley which held her elbow length veil.

VFW Auxiliary Plans Bingo

Youth Activities and Americanism chairman, Mrs. Leah Bauer and Mrs. Irene Murphy will combine efforts for the San Francisco Rainbow auxiliary 2065, VFW bingo game in Room 223 of the War Memorial building, Van Ness at McAllister streets on Saturday at 8 p.m.

Proceeds from this event will be used for flags and banners to be donated to newly organized scouting troops in the Bay Area, and assistance will be given to the St. Michael's school for Navajo Indian children in Arizona.

Any one interested in contributing to this project may contact the Community Service chairman, Mrs. Ena Svedise, at Plaza 6-1977 after 1 p.m. any day.

Psi Epsilon Meets Monday

The next regular meeting of Psi Epsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will be held at 8 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. John Gould, 1650 Rosita road, Pacifica.

Mrs. Ray McCormick will give the cultural program "Environment, Health, Work and Play."

Ways and means chairman Mrs. Bob Orth will distribute tickets for the Christmas package benefit for Mary's Help hospital.

Mrs. Noel Stubbs was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Michele Appleby, cousin of the bride, Lynn Mann, sister of the groom, and Carol Prudencio. All were along southeastern Africa, Ingrown alike in sapphire blue sheaths with floor length bell shaped overskirts. They carried white carnation bouquets.

Lili Bronner, the flower girl, was dressed in white nylon and carried a basket of carnations.

The bride's mother wore an emerald green and sapphire blue brocade dress with matching accessories and her corsage was of white cymbidium orchids.

Judith Ann chose a brown and black wool suit with tangerine accessories for her going away costume. Her corsage was of gold cymbidium orchids.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Dunham of Forestville.

Stan Moffatt was best man and the ushers were Jerome Dodge, Norman Dunham and Robert Dunham. Gregory Giusti served as ring bearer.

For the afternoon ceremonies, Mrs. Dunham chose a gold and green brocade dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was of white cymbidium orchids.

A reception at Nick's Rock-away immediately followed the ceremony.

After a short honeymoon, the young couple will be at home in South San Francisco.

Webster P-TA Carnival Set

People will be shooting gorillas, catching fish or visiting the gypsy fortune teller in her tent at the P-TA carnival at the Daniel Webster school Saturday from 1 to 7 p.m.

Program chairmen of the carnival are Mrs. Kenneth Kimball and Mrs. Melvin Thomas.

Other attractions will include a grab bag man, tic tac toe games, movies, tootsie pop toss and Chuck the Clown. A large assortment of rock and roll records, books, and white elephants will be for sale in the multi-use room.

Lincoln Carnival Is Friday

Mrs. Richar Newton, president of Abraham Lincoln P-TA, reports all the last minute touches on booths and decorations and the Lincoln P-TA will be ready to open their carnival doors. "The Haunted House" carnival will be held on Friday at a te school, 1267 Southgate Avenue, from 6 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Jim Jimenez and Mrs. Stanley Bacon, chairmen of the event, have planned this carnival with the thought, fun, donuts, and pop corn.

Game booths for toddlers, school age children and adults will be manned by parents and teachers. Michael Pennings will be on the animal shoot. Mrs. Conte Gressani and Michael Kerekes will be in the cake shop booth. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bimrose are returning to the pizza booth.

Mr. Ragamuffin, played by Norman Maxwell, will be on hand.

Y-Wives to See Travel Film

A sea excursion that sails clear around the globe will highlight a film showing given by Westlake Travel Centre to the Y-Wives at their regular meeting Tuesday at Lincoln Park clubhouse from 10 until noon.

The film views the islands of the Caribbean, shorelines along southeastern Africa, India and Hong Kong before reshaping with floor length bell turning to the USA through Panama.

Nursery facilities are available for two to five year olds. If there is any question, please contact the YWCA office, PLaza 6-7370.

YLI Mapping Reno Weekend

Our Lady of The Visitation, Young Ladies Institute 190, is planning a weekend trip to Reno-Sparks Saturday and Sunday, November 2 and 3.

Teenager Asks...

By JOE BAVARESCO

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:
I have a son 15 years old. He wants to go into the seminary. I told him I want him to finish high school first, then he can go in, if he still has the calling. He insists I'm wrong in keeping him out. Am I wrong? Should I let him enter now?

Worried

Dear Worried:
It is very normal for a boy to feel this way at 15 years old, and it is just as normal for him to change his mind. You are right. More often than not, a boy will change his mind after he is 17 or 18. If the desire is really there and if there is a definite calling, it will be there when he graduates from high school. Then he can enter.

I'm sure if you asked to your pastor he will probably tell you the same thing. "Finish high school first."

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

I am 17 years old. I have been dating the same girl for about seven months, her parents have invited me to Thanksgiving dinner and I don't want to offend them or seem ungrateful, but I don't want to offend my family either. My parents said it was alright but I'm sure they are hurt. What should I do?

M.G.

Dear M.G.:
Your place is with your own family. Remember what the day is, it is a family day of thanksgiving.

Inform your girls' parents that you are very appreciative of the invitation, but that since it is a family day that you should be with your family, but if the invitation is still open, you would like to have dessert with them.

That way you are showing your girl and her parents that you respect and are thoughtful of your family. They will not only not be offended, but they will think a lot more of you. As for your own parents, can you imagine the joy they will feel. I'm sure your girl will be happy to have you come over for Thanksgiving dessert.

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

I am the father of two teenage boys. We are in a debate, we are in hopes you will voice your honest opinion. My sons insist on wearing their pants skin tight. I think it is ridiculous. They dress like fools and say it is the style. I'm sure you will agree with me. Secondly, they listen to a station that only plays that savage music, that makes no sense. What is happening to today's youth?

A Father

Dear Father:
Watch it. These guys might get wise and pull out the family album and see how silly you dressed. If you are a parent of teen-agers you probably were a teen-ager in the 1940's.

Remember the levis that you wore, the dirtier the better. They could almost stand in the corner by themselves. The thick soled shoes that were heavy so that when you took them off you were six inches shorter.

As for music, remember that sensible song "Mares Eat Oats and Does Eat Oats and Little Lambs Eat Ivy." Dances were nice and sensible like the Zoot suits and jitter-bug. Now there was a dance that was a dance.

Oh boy, girls flying through the air, "Beat Me Daddy Eight to the Bar" or something just as sweet and sentimental, rumble seats and picnics, hikes and the long walks home, because the street cars didn't run past 11 or midnight.

No, my friend, nothing is happening to today's youth, it's just your kids are doing it now, instead of you.

Westmoor Whirl

By SHEILA STAVISH

ALTHOUGH everyone is uniformed in green and white gym clothes, boys playing football during PE classes have no problem distinguishing teammates from the opposing eleven. One side dons only shorts, and the teams are christened Shirts and Skins.

TYRO tycoons of Dexter Leland's first period economics class have mock invested in 39 shares of American Telephone and Telegraph stock. Students are eagerly watching the chart showing profit or loss taped to the front of the room, which their punning instructor calls "Wall Street."

INSTANT improvisation is no formidable feat for Robin Jackson's imaginative drama students. Contriving characters and monologue, the dilettante dramatists and comedians portray ghouls, surfers, army sergeants, and circus freaks. Any attempts at pathos are failed by the audience who find their peer's performances all highly amusing.

The female half of the senior class are exultant with relief at having weathered the nerve shattering ordeal of posing for graduation pictures. Although boys unconcernedly took it in stride, the girls were racked with anxiety of the prospect of transforming themselves into the loveliest creatures possible. Too nervous to smile, they were finally induced to grin by photographers' instructions to say not "cheese," but "boys."

REVISING last year's policy of allowing only Westmoor students to attend dances, the student executive board has voted to test an open dance policy. Westmoorites will be permitted to bring a guest, for whose conduct they will be held responsible.

Ram football bowl now boasts a new press box, constructed by advanced woodshop students Mike Johnson and David Romero. The enclosure may be used for television cameras when Westmoor plays arch rival, the Jefferson Indians, November 1.

Angela Likes SSF But Misses Home in Rome

This fall South San Francisco High school welcomed Angela Pinti, from Italy, a new foreign exchange student.

Although she is about 5000 miles away from Rome, Angela has made many new friends here in America.

She is now living with her American parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Slaughter of 763 Palm Avenue.

After graduation she will return to Rome and attend college to become a secretary. Angela has had three years of English in Italy and she finds it a difficult language to learn but likes to speak it, particularly with Americans.

Angela enjoys living in South San Francisco. She said she does, however, miss her parents and friends. She also misses the Villa Borghese, an important and famous park in Rome.

The Pinti family consists of an older brother who is 23 years old. Her father owns a successful wine shop in the heart of Rome. Her grandfather was the first of her family to come to America, in 1910.

ANGELA PINTA Likes SSF High

Ben Franklin Councilmen Are Named

Benjamin Franklin's student body council is one of several school organizations designed to provide worthwhile experiences in practicing good citizenship, including service and leadership according to Principal Harry Aronson.

The council is composed of an executive branch, the cabinet, consisting of the elected student body officers, and the senate, which is comprised of students elected by their various homerooms.

Currently, a study of parliamentary procedure is being made to assure smooth running for the remainder of the term. Proposed legislation in connection with student clubs is also being studied.

The senate meets each Friday with the faculty sponsors: Mrs. Ruth Hunter, Mrs. Bill Overstreet and Mario Lombardi. Principal Harry Aronson and Vice Principal Sidney Smith sit in on meetings as ex-officio members.

Currently serving as elected officers are: President, Tina Smith; vice president, Vic Yerby; secretary, Phyllis Hargrove, and treasurer, Bob Musselwhite.

The senate is composed of seventh and eighth grade homeroom representatives. They are Denise Minetto, Jason Katz, Mike Farrer, Nick Defferios, Gary Aronson, James Chalos, Richard Knight, Reed Hargrove, Gregory Dill, Christine Felter, Steve Roche, Patricia Keate, Barbara Samuelson, Robin Ramus, Tom Gernhardt, Kathy Price, Peter Keelen, Bill Brown, Theresa Messier, Larry Wolff, Becky Prongos, Pat Lynch, Jim Hunt, Joanne Cop, Bobbie Jean Granger, Karen Carello, Lance DeRoo, Penny Geras, Mike Boss, Barry Yamron, Dario Ghetaldi, Michael Fusaro, Bill Daly, and Steve Seager.

Hallowe'en Schedule Is Announced

A big Halloween party for members of the three Colma area junior teen clubs is slated Friday evening from 7 to 9:30 p.m. at the War Memorial Community center.

Featuring a full length movie "Africa Screams" with Abbott and Costello, the evening will also include games and contests as well as a dance. All youth are encouraged to wear costumes as prizes will be awarded.

Cost for the evening is 15 cents for members of the Majestics, Imperials and Casuals with their teen club card. Each member may bring one seventh and eighth grade guest providing the guest picks up a permission slip at the War Memorial Community center during this week. Admission price for guests will be 25 cents. Special refreshments will also be on sale.

Daly City to Start Cycling

The Daly City Recreation department is organizing a new program of cycling activity.

The new program will start at Westmoor High school football field Saturday morning at 10 a.m.

Activities will begin with bicycle time trials and racing on the quarter mile track. The program is open to boys and girls of all ages.

Teen Carnival Drawing Near

Pie eating, bubble gum blowing, apple bobbing and many more contests will be special hourly features at the Big Carnival sponsored by the seven junior and senior teen clubs of the Daly City Recreation department.

The War Memorial Community center will be the site of this festival November 2 and 3. Slated to open at noon Saturday, it will run to 10 p.m. that evening and will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Geared for the entire family, a variety of concessions, game and refreshment booths will offer challenges to all those attending. Prizes of all types for both children, teens and adults will be on display. In a big prize booth for winners. A gigantic teddy bear will be raffled off at 3:30 p.m. Sunday as a key feature to the carnival.

Among the game and skill booths will be a dime pitch, sponge throw, tick tack toe, go-rilla shoot, hi-lo, shuffleboard and many more. Special booths on games will include a cake walk, cartoon showings, a gold

Editors Head Rampage Staff

Heading Westmoor High school's Rampage staff this year are co-editors Sheila Stavish and Sherry Rosen. They have chosen Beth Buckley, Lanette Howard, and George Mitchell to serve as individual page editors. Special editors will be Darlene Brown, Michelle Golby, and Ray Sabella.

Sheila and Sherry are both seniors who have had previous journalistic experience. Sherry wrote a Westmoor news column for the Post last year and Sheila is writing it this year.

Co-editor of the Rampage last year, Sherry came to WHS from West Virginia as a sophomore. Her current list of school positions include Commissioner of Clubs on WHS executive board, president of Spanish club, and vice president of California Scholarship federation.

Sheila has had previous experience as editor of her elementary school newspaper in Japan and of the Benjamin Franklin Key. Serving presently as a member of Westmoor's Sergeant-at-Arms staff and secretary-treasurer of French club, she has also taken enriched English and social science courses and is considering attending the University of California.

Sheila and Sherry are official page one editors and will be assisted by page one assistant editor senior Dave Sholin.

TN Business Leaders Meet

The Future Business Leaders of America of Terra Nova High school have held their second meeting.

Preparations for the basketball annual were discussed and President Dorothy Little presented the plan for raising money for Radio Free Europe. Supporting Radio Free Europe is one of the major projects of FBLA chapters in Northern California.

The second project requires the collection of used postage stamps which will be sent to the Children's Tuberculosis center in Switzerland.

Terra Nova hosted the Northern Section Advisory board last month. Dorothy Little and Advisor Roland Boldt were are representatives.

Creative Dance Classes Split

The creative dance program sponsored by the Daly City recreation department in the Bayshore area of the community has been divided into two class groups due to the large number of interested participants.

Nedra Merrick, instructor, will continue with the original session on Monday afternoons from 4 to 5 p.m. in the Bayshore school auditorium. An additional class to accommodate the overflow will be set for Saturday afternoons from 1 to 2 p.m. in the same room.

Coast Starts J-Teen Club

J-Teen club has been organized by the Park, Beach and Recreation department for Pacific youth in the seventh and eighth grades. The first of 15 scheduled dances was held Friday night under the club sponsorship.

The J-Teen club is regulated by the J-Teen council, a representative body of youth from each school. The council meets once a month to make any decisions affecting the club and its activities.

DC Teen Clubs Set Activities

Halloween themes are in order for two of the junior teen clubs meeting for regular activities Friday evening — the Know Names at the Westlake park clubhouse and the new Bayshore club at the Bayshore school auditorium.

Both clubs are planning special activities including games, contests, dancing and a costume parade for the evening's program from 7 to 9 p.m.

The Telstars will not meet this week due to the Abraham Lincoln school's annual P-TA carnival.

Westboro Shop Center Is Approved

Rezoning to allow construction of a $22 million regional shopping center in the new Westborough tract was approved by the county planning commission over the strenuous objections of a competitor.

Ernest G. Giesch, manager of Consolidated Lands company's Crestmoor Park development in San Bruno, told the commission that his company has been planning for years for just such a shopping center a mile and a half away.

The plans were held up for more than two years, Giesch said, because of uncertainty over plans for Junipero Serra freeway. Then they were delayed for another year and a half, he told the planners, while the route for San Bruno freeway was being decided.

Now, he said, the two routes have been located and planning is proceeding for the Crestmoor shopping center at the intersection of the two thoroughfares.

Giesch argued further that the Crestmoor project is more nearly half-way between two other large regional centers — Hillsdale and Stonestown. He said that San Bruno needs the commercial tax base more than does "tax rich" South San Francisco, which has undertaken to annex the presently undeveloped part of Westborough.

The Consolidated manager termed the Westborough request for commercial zoning for 67 acres, instead of the 20 acres originally planned, as "ridiculous." He also had something to say about the terrain of Westborough, where all building sites are to be "manufactured" either by cutting or filling.

"You are being asked," Giesch told the commission, "to zone a mountain for a regional shopping center. I think it takes a lot of nerve to do that."

After the hearing was concluded, Commissioner Fred Cohen said he wanted more time to think about it.

But Deputy District Attorney Howard Gawthrop told the commissioners that they had to act on the application or it would go on to the board of supervisors with their implied consent.

The commission moved to approve the rezoning, with the provision that the new zoning carry an S-7 rather than an S-1 designation as applied for. S-1 would permit construction of apartments of 500 square feet per unit if the property were not developed for commerce. The S-7 designation call for 5000 square feet per unit, or single family homes. The motion carried.

The Problems Were Few

A cordial joint meeting of the Pacifica city council and the board of trustees of the Jefferson Union High school district reviewed a lot of agreement and passed on a lot of information last week at the Pacifica council chambers. This was an annual meeting, scheduled to work out any problems between school and municipality that might arise.

There weren't many, the councilmen and trustees found. The district, which operates Oceana and Terra Nova High schools in Pacifica, has several agreements with the city for use of various facilities which were reviewed.

The council then appointed a land use evaluation committee, also asking the district for a summary of its long-range plans for expansion.

District Supt. Edward D. Morgan told the council that at present Terra Nova and Oceana have capacities of 950 students each.

Work now in progress at Terra Nova and due to start shortly at Oceana will bring both up to 1500 capacities, with third increments later, if needed, to bring the schools to their planned limits of 2000 each. Oceana now has about 850 students and Terra Nova 1000, Morgan said.

Negotiations now are going on with the Suburban Land company, developers of the former Christen Dairy Ranch, for a high school site on the development in the hills between Pacifica and San Bruno, Morgan added.

That school, if and when needed, probably would serve Pacifica children from Portola Heights, Westview and some others from the Christen development, St. Francis Heights and the Daly City portion of Westlake, he said.

Be Careful of Referral Sales

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor of the "Barometer"

There is always a "wishful thinker" who relies on the assurance of a salesman who will spend hours in his home promising "free merchandise" if a list of friends who might be in the market for the same item is submitted along with a certain small sum.

The "wishful thinker" does not stop to wonder why anyone would be selling merchandise if all buyers were going to get the same merchandise for nothing. When the salesman leaves and he reads the "paper" left in his hand, he finds he has signed a conditional sales contract that will obligate him to meet regular payments even though there may be no "referral commissions" from the list he had given the salesman.

There are honest referral sellers. It is the growing number of fly-by-night outfits who use promises of big income to make a sale, knowing that the buyer will never benefit. These, the Better Business Bureau oppose.

Distributors provide promotional material instructing the salesman in the art of making appointments and gaining entrance into the homes of prospects without disclosing the true nature and purpose of the visit. Some of the salesmen pose as advertising executives seeking the public's opinion by making house-to-house surveys. They hold out the bait that a new vacuum cleaner, a new car, a new hi-fi all can be had without cost if the prospect will supply the company with the names of 10 or 15 of his friends.

QFI Appoints Food Buyer

The appointment of Robert L. Faraser, 37, of Redwood City as director of frozen food buying for Quality Foods, Inc., the Bay Area, was announced last week by QFI President John H. Musso.

A 10-year veteran of the food industry, Faraser came to QFI from General Goods. A graduate of San Jose State college, he also holds an M.A. in business administration from the University of Southern California.

The new frozen food executive will direct the wholesale buying for QFI's seven supermarkets—Stonestown, Lick, Grand Central and Alemany—all in San Francisco; Buri Buri in South San Francisco; San Mateo and the recently acquired Millbrae market.

A pioneer in the merchandising of a complete line of frozen foods (including specialty gourmet items), QFI's frozen food sales have risen to more than $2 million annually. This represents 9 per cent of total sales volume, compared with the national average of 4 per cent. Faraser served with the U.S. Navy in World War II and with

County Opens SSF Office

Offices of the San Mateo County Agricultural Commissioner will be established November 1 in the administration building of the Golden Gate Produce Terminal, South San Francisco, Commissioner Victor Canavese announced last week.

The offices will serve as the north county branch of the agriculture department where six inspectors are assigned to official duties in the area from Millbrae north to San Francisco and to Pacifica on the coast.

Mervin J. Cresta of South San Francisco is department deputy in charge of the north county operations.

The produce terminal administration building also houses offices for the labor unions and a branch of Wells Fargo bank.

New Post

Carew Named To Bank Post

Robert J. Carew has been promoted to assistant manager at the Pacifica office of Wells Fargo bank, replacing James P. Tice who is being transferred to a Palo Alto branch.

Carew joined the bank after graduation from the University of San Francisco in 1955. He served with the U. S. Army for two years and was assigned to various branches in San Francisco. His promotion follows a six-month management training program.

The 30-year-old banker and his wife, Odette, have two children. They reside in Daly City at 7 Crestview avenue.

Business and Finance

SSF Motel Approved

A new 44-unit motel was approved by the South San Francisco planning commission last week, but with strings attached to it.

The commission granted the request of Larry Barrett, owner of the Barrett U-Drive auto and truck rental organization, to put up the motel on Freeway street, near the new produce terminal.

But Barrett in return agreed to participate in assessments in a project to make Terminal avenue a through street running into San Mateo avenue to handle northbound traffic from the motel and the produce terminal.

The El Mundo restaurant in Sunshine Gardens got a dance permit, to go along with its restaurant and cocktail lounge required because of its proximity to residential areas.

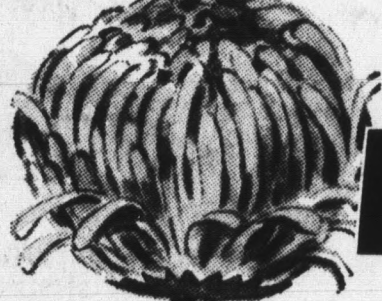

The commissioners also reorganized themselves, with Warren Steinkamp moving up from vice chairman to the chairmanship and J. Joseph McGovern becoming second in command. Steinkamp replaces Clifford Wells, who stepped down in the yearly reshuffle.

Entries should be sent to the contest manager at the Cow Palace.

Medic Alert Program Explained

Medic Alert, a life-saving system that alerts emergency crews to houses occupied by residents who cannot leave without assistance may be coming to Daly City.

The system uses a window decal, shown above. The decal is placed in the homes of the aged, of those with crippling injuries and of heart victims.

The program was discussed recently by Capt. E. J. Greenstrand of the Daly City Fire department and Leonard Krivonos, executive director of the Medic Alert Foundation, which has headquarters in Turlock.

In Turlock, a pilot program was begun in which fireman canvassed the community, seeking the homes of residents who might not be able to leave their homes without help.

At each home, with the owners' permission, a red and white Medic Alert decal was placed in a front window to remind emergency workers that a special situation might exist.

Medic Alert is a non-profit foundation that provides neckwear and bracelets to persons with hidden medical problems.

Coast's Worst Traffic Jam

The worst traffic mess of the season was reported Friday morning as a pea-soup fog covered Skyline boulevard near Pacifica, cutting visibility to almost zero.

By the time the sun had partially burned off the fog, shortly before noon, police estimated that 35 to 50 autos had crashed into each other, some smashing into embankments and others careening into ditches afterwards.

Although traffic in both directions was almost completely stopped for more than two hours after the first crash was reported at 7:45 a.m., only two minor injuries—one a lacerated foot to a scavenger cleaning up broken glass—occurred.

All available highway patrolmen, Pacifica and San Bruno police, and tow trucks were dispatched to the area, after the original crash near Hickey boulevard in the new Fairmont subdivision set off a chain reaction of rear-enders in both north and south lanes between the Edgemar freeway and Sneath lane in San Bruno.

One motorist reported he sat absolutely still for a whole hour in his auto, waiting for traffic ahead to move.

All Directions

Pacifica police reported that the first accident, which set off the series of other crashes, involved six autos in a rear-end collision in the southbound lane. Soon cars were piling together in both directions.

By the time Highway Patrolmen Harry Emerick and Jack Rakestraw arrived, they said, the situation was so completely confused that motorists were not even attempting to await to make police reports but were exchanging names with each other and then heading on with their damaged cars.

Emerick reported that the auto of a Swedish motorist who arrived in this country only three weeks ago was hit in the rear twice. When his auto was struck the first time, the confused motorist got out in the heavy fog to see what had happened. As the car which struck him the first time passed by, a second auto plowed into the rear of his auto at about 45 miles per hour and then careened into a ditch.

Although there were nine autos involved in this accident, ironically, only the auto which smashed into the ditch was able to drive away, Emerick said.

In another rear-car accident almost immediately following, Ernest W. Grosskopf, 47, a meat cutter of 1125 Helen drive, Millbrae, suffered a minor foot injury when his auto and one driven by James A. Davis, 31, a San Francisco auditor, collided.

SCATTERED CANDY

Ronald D. Werner, 332 San Diego avenue, Daly City, told police someone broke into his basement and scattered boxes of candy all over the floor.

Mrs. Adelaide Rozzi, 80, a resident of South San Francisco for 56 years, died last week after a short illness at the family home, 700 Maple avenue.

A native of Italy, she was a member of the Italian Catholic Federation and of Figtid Italia.

She is survived by her husband, Federico; three sons, Armello and Archie of South San Francisco and Leo of Millbrae; four daughters, Mrs. Emma Leggero, Mrs. Erma Smith and Mrs. Edith Chamberlain of South San Francisco and Mrs. Levia Canpi of San Jose; 12 grandchildren, and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held by the Naumann Lincoln chapel Thursday. Burial was in Italian cemetery, Colma.

Daly City Boy Hurt

A 7-year-old Daly City boy was injured Wednesday when he ran from between two cars into a private school bus driven by Grace Wilson, 474 San Diego avenue.

Mrs. Wilson told police she was driving south on Mission street when Lawrence Shaw, 678 Bellevue avenue, Daly City, darted from between the two cars and ran into her bus with considerable force.

She was traveling at about 20 miles per hour, she said.

Thomas Wallis, 7394 Mission street, owner of one of the parked cars, said Mrs. Wilson's bus had swerved into his car, denting his left front fender.

Halloween Party Set

The Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation department last week announced the special events for all age youngsters for Halloween.

A Halloween drawing contest will be conducted through all the schools of the Laguna Salada Unified School district. All pictures will be judged for the Best Halloween Picture and prize ribbons will be awarded to the first, second, and third place winners in each grade in each school. Deadline for submitting entries is Friday.

After the pictures are judged by the P-TA's of the various schools, the prize winning pictures will be displayed at Ortega, Linda Mar, Pedro Valley, Sanchez, and Cabrillo schools, in the Linda Mar Shopping center, Sharp Park and Vallemar Schools, in the Eureka Square Shopping center, Pacific Manor and Westview Schools in the Pacific Manor Shopping center. After the contest, all pictures may be picked up at the schools.

The Linda Mar Merchants association and the Park, Beach and Recreation department will be co-sponsoring a Halloween parade for youngsters in the Linda Mar Shopping center on Halloween night.

Line up for the parade will be at 6:30 p.m. and the parade will start at 7 p.m. Costumes will be judged in each grade level for the Best Homemade and the Best Commercial Costume. Prizes will be awarded to the winners and all children participation in the parade will receive treats.

Teen-agers may look forward to a special Halloween dance on Thursday, October 31st, at the Pedro Valley School. The dance will be from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. and the prices will be 50 cents for Teen club members, 75 cents for their guests which must have guest cards, one dollar for non-club members.

Sports Car Rams Police And Escapes

A motorist in a high powered American sports car eluded two South San Francisco patrol cars in a 110-mile-per-hour chase before dawn Thursday morning in which he spun completely out of control three times, attempted to run down a patrolman after smashing into an embankment, and caused a rookie police officer to be hospitalized with a possible heart attack.

Officer Robert Moon said he spotted the auto, later determined to be registered to a San Bruno man, but found abandoned in Millbrae later Thursday, heading south on El Camino Real near Orange avenue shortly after 5 a.m., at about 100 miles an hour.

Moon said he whipped his patrol car into a U turn and turned on his red lights and siren to begin the chase, and the white sports car increased its speed to more than 110 miles per hour.

As the auto reached San Bruno avenue, Moon said, the driver lost control and the auto spun around completely out of control. As the officer came to a halt, however, the auto was facing west on San Bruno avenue and the driver "burned rubber" as he sped off towards Junipero Serra boulevard.

At this point, Officer James LaChance, a rookie on the force, joined the chase behind Moon's patrol car.

After speeding through a red light on Junipero Serra boulevard, the fast roadster again spun out of control, but ended up heading in the same direction. The driver continued on towards Skyline boulevard, where he spun out of control once again. The fleeing auto rolled backwards into a dirt embankment.

Moon said he placed the front bumper of his patrol car against the front bumper of the sports car and got out of his auto. As he walked to the side of the sports car and ordered the driver to get out, the driver jammed the sports car into reverse, causing it to back up the embankment.

The driver then slammed the vehicle into first gear and smashed forward into the police patrol car, damaging it slightly. Moon reported he had to jump to one side to avoid being struck.

After bouncing off the police car, the sports car fled south on Skyline boulevard. Four shots were reportedly fired in the chase.

Although LaChance attempted to resume the chase, he was unable to follow. Fellow officers reported he was hospitalized at Peninsula hospital with a possible mild heart attack. LaChance, 32, had been on the force less than six months. San Bruno police said the sports car's owner had reported it stolen.

LARGE WINDOW BROKEN

McKeon Construction company, 500 Taravel avenue, San Francisco, reported that someone broke a large window at the Eastmoor Apartments, 101 Eastmoor avenue, Daly City. Manager Robert Berlanga said the window was broken between 10 p.m. Tuesday and 8 a.m. Wednesday.

Value of the window is estimated at $365.

School Lunch Week Observed by Laguna Salada

The school children of Pacifica were among 700,000 students who enjoyed a well-balanced lunch in some 3700 California schools during National School Lunch Week, October 13-19.

The program means improved health and better accomplishment in school, said Robert P. Fizer, local school administrator.

Nationwide, the school lunch program is a one and a quarter billion dollar business, reaching more than 16 million school children daily in the United States.

Mrs. Lydia Cooper, school lunch supervisor, reports that this food market amounts to $40 million a year in California, and $77,142 in Pacifica.

Last year the Laguna Salada school lunch shopping list called for 5630 pounds of ground beef and 2285 pounds of hot dogs. Needless to say, two of the most popular menus with the students are hot dogs and hamburgers.

The 57,197 pounds of food donations from the federal government included 1800 pounds of ground beef, 1900 pounds of turkeys, 5480 pounds of chicken, and a variety of other foods which included canned goods and vegetables.

Each of the 166,280 lunches served to the elementary students in Pacifica included at least one half-pint of milk purchased from local dairymen. This makes the school lunch program an important part of the local economy, Fizer noted.

The Laguna Salada 21 cafeteria employees report to their school lunch kitchens each morning and hustle about the business of preparing meals planned according to government specifications to supply one third of each child's daily food needs.

Student lunches are available for 35 cents in the Laguna Salada School district. These prices are made possible by the help of the federal cash reimbursement of 5 cents a meal and the federally donated foods amounting to about 5 cents per meal.

At these prices the tasty, attractive school lunches are the best value for the money and better balanced — nutritionally — than the average home-packed lunch, Mrs. Cooper says.

CSM Hopes to Solve Parking Problems

Traffic problems at College of San Mateo have been bad, President Julio Bortolazzo concedes, but are "shaking down."

"I don't think the board of trustees guarantees every student a parking space, as an inalienable right," he says, "but everyone expects to be able to park right next to the building where his classes are."

"That's just not in the cards, at any college,"

Dr. Bortolazzo noted that doors had opened expecting 5000 students, but that 5600 had shown up.

He said 3200 parking spaces had been provided, but that 3500 cars, or more, had appeared.

"They were not pooling," he complained. "Seventy per cent of the cars that come up here have a single occupant."

"Some of them are beginning to pool rides now, or are coming up on the Star Charter bus from Hillsdale. This overcrowding is the sort of thing you expect during the first two or three weeks at any college."

He said the situation is even worse, in some cases, at night school, because the students come from even wider areas and have even more diversified interests.

"The situation will improve, though," he claimed. "I will present grading drawings and bid scheduled for 600 to 800 new parking spaces to the board at their next meeting. I expect to have the mcomplected within the next 60 days. We have the land, and have always planned to use it for parking."

He conceded that the 4000 spaces provided by the new parking lots might not be adequate for next year's expected 7200 students, but said "We'll work something out."

The Holiday Decorations Show is the twelfth annual event held at the Oakland Auditorium and is sponsored by the Oakland Park department and the Garden clubs of the East Bay.

Demonstrations are in progress throughout the four day show, featuring "art-in-action" presentations. In the arena will be such things as the cone booth, shadow boxes, arrangements, niches, holiday kitchen, gift wrapping, mantels wreaths, candles, holiday table settings, Christmas tree land, miniature Christmas trees and tin can art.

The Pacifica Christmas Do-It-Yourself Show has been set for December 6-8.

Jeff Teacher Nominated For State Job

The Jefferson Union High school board of trustees last week extended congratulations to Durant W. Moseley of the faculty of Jefferson High school on the occasion of his nomination for the post of vice president of the California Industrial Education association.

In a letter to CIEA president G. Theodore Elmgren Jr., District Superintendent Edward D. Morgan stated, "Our district will be honored if Moseley should be elected to this important educational office."

In his letter concerning the nomination Elmgren informed the district that the constitution of the CIEA provides for a succession in office and if Moseley discharges his responsibilities well he would succeed to the office of president elect the next year and president the following year. A fourth year of service upon the executive council follows.

The elections will be held in February and the officers will be installed in March.

Parents Hit Bus Policy Of District

Anger and misunderstanding became apparent last evening as a sizable delegation of parents from the Jefferson High school area petitioned the Jefferson Union High school district board of trustees for a more lenient bus ticket policy during a long and sometimes stormy meeting Monday night.

Members of the delegation, all from the Bellevue, Hanover, Whittier and Partridge lane areas, were protesting the district's newly instituted program of giving passes to youngsters living more than two miles from the school campus and prohibiting students living less than two miles away the use of the buses.

The new policy provides bus transportation for all living on the Bellevue street in homes in less than the 300 block, all living on Hanover in less than the 500 block and all on Frankfort in less than the 200 block. All students on the east side of Whittier and all on South Hill street.

In the Westmoor school area all living on South Mayfair with house numbers less than 300, all living on the east side of Park Plaza drive and all living on Skyline drive with house numbers over 1000, will be eligible to receive bus passes.

All Oceana students may ride the buses and Terra Nova students on Linda Mar boulevard and Crespi drive with house numbers less than 1100, and all living on Rosita road with house numbers under 1220 will receive passes.

Fred Goodell, of the administrative staff, explained that the passes had been issued when the district learned it was unable to transport all the walk backs in addition to those pupils who actually live over two miles from school.

Elio Fontana, chairman of the board of trustees, asked that the members of the delegation form a committee to draw up specific proposals concerning the designated stops and the number of children to be bussed and present them to the district.

"I am sure," Fontana said, that you will find this district very co-operative and eager to meet with you to work out these problems."

AAUW Gives Board List Of Resources

The American Association of University Women, Pacifica branch, has compiled a file of resource people, which has been presented to the Laguna-Salada school board.

This project was carried out by Mrs. Marvin Dutton of the AAUW, acting on a previous request of the school district for such information.

The use of written questionnaires will provide a listing of the specialized skills or knowledge of Pacifica residents, that could be used to contribute to the education of our students.

The file will be available to the teachers of the Laguna-Salada school district, to use in supplementing classroom instruction.

Board Okays Request For Deductions

The Jefferson Union High school district board of trustees approved a recommendation by James Ballard, president of the Jefferson District Federation of Teachers, that dues for the American Federation of Teachers and the California State Federation of Teachers be collected by the district through regular payroll deductions.

Ballard, in his petition to the board said, "I wish to state that we greatly appreciate the attitude expressed by the administration in all the schools in regard to the formation and existence of our federation."

In his letter, formally announcing the federations officer for the coming year, Ballard, expressed the hope that "this school year shows an even greater level of educational achievement on the part of the students of this district as a result of the efforts of all of us."

Besides Ballard the officers include, Frank Pustay, vice president; Selwyn Jones, secretary; Robert Delzell, treasurer; James Force, and Michael Tugendreich, publications directors, and Karol Nelson, parliamentarian.

Building representatives are Force, Jefferson; Layton Jones, Oceana; Delzell, Terra Nova and Brooks Darrow, Westmoor.

FAA Week Is Proclaimed

This week has been designated as Federal Aviation Week in Daly City by Mayor Joseph Verduci.

In a proclamation he issued he cites the five years of accomplishment by the Federal Aviation Agency.

The agency is giving full consideration to the requirements of national defense, of commercial and general aviation and the public right or freedom to travel through the air.

It has ushered commercial and general aviation into the jet age and is now on the threshold of the development of the supersonic transport, he said.

He urges citizens to give thought to the importance of aviation in our daily lives, and in our local economy and to participate in activities planned in connection with the observance.

Coast Artist House Tour To Aid Mary's Help Drive

The Tau Gamma Phi chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi will sponsor an artists' home and studio show Sunday, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., according to Mrs. Sherri Thomas of the Pacifica Artists' guild.

The tour will be staged for the benefit of the Mary's Help Building fund and the Oddstad park recreation building.

A charge of one dollar per person will be made for the event which will include visits to five homes.

According to Mrs. Thomas, the home studio and pottery house of Artist Bill Southworth and Luther Spraker, located at 513 Miller avenue, will be visited and guests will be able to view the elaborate suana, the kiln and many oils and abstract sculptures created by the two artists.

Oil paintings, wood sculpture and unusual mosaics of formica will be exhibited at the home and studio of Martin and June Alley of 467 Carmel avenue, Mrs. Thomas said. Oils will also be exhibited at the home of Angel Stewart of 470 Brighton.

The studio of Louis Hays, 1139 Banyon, will contain examples of his work with oils and water colors and Mrs. Thomas announced that her oils will be displayed in her home, 790 Palmetto avenue.

Light refreshments will be served to members of the tour in Mrs. Thomas' home she said.

Persons interested in program and exhibits are asked to contact Hays, 359-2329 for additional details, Mrs. Thomas said.

Beet Salad Frances is a perfect dish for a smorgasbord supper.

Herring and Potato Casserole
Sliced Meats Assorted Cheeses
Beet Salad Frances
Brown Bread
Apple Pudding with Custard Sauce
Beverage

BEET SALAD FRANCES
2 can (1 pound each) sliced beets
1/2 cup cider vinegar
sugar
1 teaspoon mixed pickling spice
1 large cucumber (pared, scored and thinly sliced)
Tiny or small-size tomatoes
Drain beets; turn into a shallow dish; reserve. Pour 1/2 cup of the beet liquid into a small saucepan; add the vinegar, sugar and pickling spice. Slowly bring to a boil; boil 5 minutes. Pour over beets. Chill about 4 hours or overnight; turn beets after several hours. At serving time, drain beets and arrange in center of chop plate or other flat serving dish; surround with sliced cucumbers.

A Sardine, Tomato and Cheesewich

Want an open sandwich that's a little different? This one may appeal to you.

Sardine, Tomato and Cheese Sandwiches
Tossed Green Salad
Apple Cobbler a la Mode
Beverage

SARDINE, TOMATO AND CHEESE SANDWICHES
1 can (3 1/2 ounces) brisling sardines
2 tablespoons chili sauce
1/2 teaspoon curry powder
1/4 teaspoon onion powder
4 slices bread
2 medium tomatoes, sliced
1 cup (1/2 pound) grated cheddar cheese

Lift the sardines from the oil and mash with chili sauce, curry powder and onion powder. Toast bread lightly; spread one side of each slice with sardine mixture, making sure edges of bread are covered. Top with tomato slices; sprinkle with cheese. Broil slowly until topping is hot and cheese begins to melt and brown. Makes 4 servings—1 slice per portion.

Quick Dish To Feed the Neighbors

Quick dish to feed to a drop-in neighbor.

More Corn Than Eggs
Crisp Bacon Buttered Toast
Fruit Salad
Beverage

MORE CORN THAN EGGS
4 large eggs
2-3 cup drained canned whole-kernel corn
Salt and freshly-ground pepper
2 tablespoons butter

Beat eggs just enough to blend yolks and whites. Add corn and a dash of salt and pepper. Melt butter in an 8-inch skillet so it is medium-hot; pour in egg mixture. Cook gently, lifting egg mixture from bottom of skillet as egg sets. Serve at once. Makes 2 servings.

Egg-Olive Cream Used As Dressing

While "Egg-Olive Cream Dressing" is primarily a salad bage or mixed vegetable salads—it may also be spooned over cooked green beans, asparagus or cauliflower to dress up those vegetables. Small pieces of ripe olives give this dressing most interesting texture and nut-like flavor.

EGG-OLIVE CREAM DRESSING
1/2 cup ripe olives
1/2 cup cream
1/2 cup mayonnaise
3 tablespoons vinegar
1/2 cup catsup
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon chopped onion
2 hard-cooked eggs

Cut olives into small pieces. Combine cream and mayonnaise. Add vinegar slowly, beating continuously. Add catsup, salt, Worcestershire, paprika, onion and olives. Mash eggs or force through sieve and stir into dressing. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

Ginger Peach Sauce: A New Flavor Meaning

"Ginger Peach Sauce" will give a new flavor meaning to raised pancakes accompanied by frizzled ham at a weekend lunch or brunch.

For the sauce: Heat a 1 lb. can cling peach slices in their syrup. Mix together 2 table-spoons cornstarch, dash salt and 1/4 cup shortening; cool to lukewarm. Sprinkle 1 package active dry yeast into 1/4 cup warm water; stir to dissolve. Add milk mixture, 1 egg and 1/4 cups sifted unbleached flour; beat 1 minute. Cover and let rise 30 minutes. Fry on lightly greased griddle, using 2 table-spoons batter for 3-inch cakes and 1/4 cup batter for 5-inch cakes. Stir batter down as needed. Brush thinly sliced baked or boiled ham with melted butter; heat under broiler or in skillet until edges curl. Makes about 1 1/2 cups sauce and 12 pancakes (5 inches each) or 24 (3 inches each).

SNACKTIME TREAT
Spread lightly toasted bread with deviled ham and pickle relish; top with sliced cheddar cheese and broil until the cheese begins to melt. Great for snack-time!

Barbecue Leftovers

Brown slices of leftover roast or post-roast in a small amount of lard or drippings. Pour barbecue sauce over the meat, cover and bake in a slow oven (300 degrees) or simmer on top of the range about 30 minutes.

Don't Boil Meat

A point to remember when braising meat or cooking it in liquid: Meat should never be boiled. Rather, it should be cooked at a simmering temperature.

Eggplant San Joaquin Has Subtle Flavoring

Cube an eggplant, slice an onion, add canned tomatoes and seasonings and cook awhile. Then for extra, but subtle flavor, add pitted ripe olives and grated Parmesan. The result? A delicious vegetable dish — taste-full company for hamburgers, chops, steak, venison or wild duc. Don't worry if there is some left. Eggplant San Joaquin is great reheated.

EGGPLANT SAN JOAQUIN
(Serves 6-8)
1 large eggplant, diced
1 (No. 2 1/2) can tomatoes
1 large onion, sliced
Salt and pepper
Pinch of basil
1/2 cup grated Parmesan

1 cup pitted ripe olives
Combine eggplant, tomatoes and onion in a heavy skillet. Add seasonings and cook, covered for 20 minutes or until eggplant is tender. Stir in cheese and olives about 10 minutes before serving. To get every good drop, serve in individual sauce dishes.

Armenian Food Feature at 2-Day Church Bazaar

Demonstrations of Armenian dishes, including shish-kebab, kofta (Armenian version of stuffed meat cakes), dolma (stuffed grape leaf packets), soubereg (flaky dough with cheese), and paklava and boorma (sweet pastry) will be served buffet style. All dinner preparations will be undertaken by the St. John's Ladies' auxiliaries. On Saturday, October 26 at 3:30 p.m., a food demonstration is scheduled so that do-it-yourself individuals will have the opportunity to learn how to make penerli (flaky dough encasing fluffy packets of cheese). The demonstration on Sunday at the same time will feature an Armenian dessert, boorma (flaky rolls of tissue thin dough wound around sweetmeats). Free recipes of Armenian dishes will be passed out at the door to familiarize the public with the eating habits and exotic ingredients used in Armenian cuisine. Game booths with prizes will be open during the two-day affair. The program for both evenings include folk dancing presented by the Armenian Folk Dance group. Free recipes of Armenian dishes will be passed out at the door to familiarize the public with the eating habits and exotic ingredients used in Armenian cuisine. An attendance of over 2000 persons during the two-day drive is anticipated. All proceeds from this twenty-first annual bazaar will go towards the church building fund.

Teen Aged

Need Meat
Nutritionists agree that teenagers need from 30 to 50 per cent more of certain food nutrients than their parents. Unfortunately, many teen-agers do not receive these recommended amounts. You can begin by making sure the young people in your family eat plenty of meat, an excellent source of high-quality protein, B vitamins and minerals.
After you turn cookie-bar dough into the pan, be sure to spread it evenly. Use a small spatula for this.

Broiled Olive Tomato Sandwich

Open-faced sandwiches have a most appetizing appearance, and your recipe files can't contain too many recipes for them. "Broiled Olive Tomato Sandwiches" are particularly good-looking—and good-tasting—with their tomato slices, chopped ripe olives and melted American cheese. You might garnish each sandwich plate with sweet pickles, pitted ripe olives and celery sticks. Roll the olives lightly in salad or olive oil to make them glisten.

Assortment Of Nuts for Good Snack

An assortment of nuts makes a welcome snack at any time and is well worth including in shopping plans for a party or that "something special" for after dinner.

Nuts are a perfect food to serve in a hurry when guests drop in unexpectedly. The nutrition and quick energy values they offer also make them ideal for the between-meal snacks with soft drinks that active children like. And there are no untidy leftovers to worry about. Nuts will stay fresh much longer than most people can resist eating them.

These days, shelled mixed nuts are available in cans in almost every food store, ready to eat so that you don't have to struggle with a nut cracker.

And every can opens up a miniature travel adventure in good eating—from the world's largest pecan orchard near El Paso, Texas, through the lush Brazilian jungle and on to Africa and India.

To make the choicest selection of nuts available, American manufacturers take a global view of their business. One firm, for example, draws on the resources of many continents for its cans of mixed nuts.

It buys filberts from Oregon and Turkey; cashews from India and Africa; Brazil nuts from South America; and walnuts from California.

Brazil nuts grow almost exclusively along the jungle tributaries of the mighty Amazon river on trees towering 150 feet above the ground. From that height, the thick, tough-skinned pods fall with such force that often they bury themselves in the earth and have to be dug out.

A few blows with a machete will open the pods so that 15 to 30 nuts spill out. But you don't need a machete to crack the nut. Most nut companies do the job by machine before packaging them for sale.

With chopped nuts, you can make even your favorite desserts more attractive. They are delightful sprinkled on ice cream, on whipped cream served over gelatin desserts, and as a topping on frosted cakes.

Add an Egg To Sausage For Brunch

Add an egg to pork sausage for a tempting and nutritious brunch, luncheon or late-evening supper. The flavor combination is delightful, and when you serve them atop a toasted English muffin, the results are bound to please every member of your family. And there's body-building protein in the eggs and sausage.

For best results in scrambling, the California Egg Council recommends bringing the eggs to room temperature before breaking. Work with a brisk over-and-under motion when beating. Butter the English muffins before toasting them under the broiler.

EGGS 'N SAUSAGE

1/2 pound pork sausage
6 eggs
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons cream
1 tablespoon frozen chopped chives.

4 English muffins, toasted
Saute sausage until thoroughly browned. Beat eggs slightly. Add cream and season with salt and pepper to taste. Stir eggs into sausage and scramble over low heat. When partially cooked add frozen chopped chives and continue cooking until soft. Serve on toasted English muffins. Makes 4 servings.

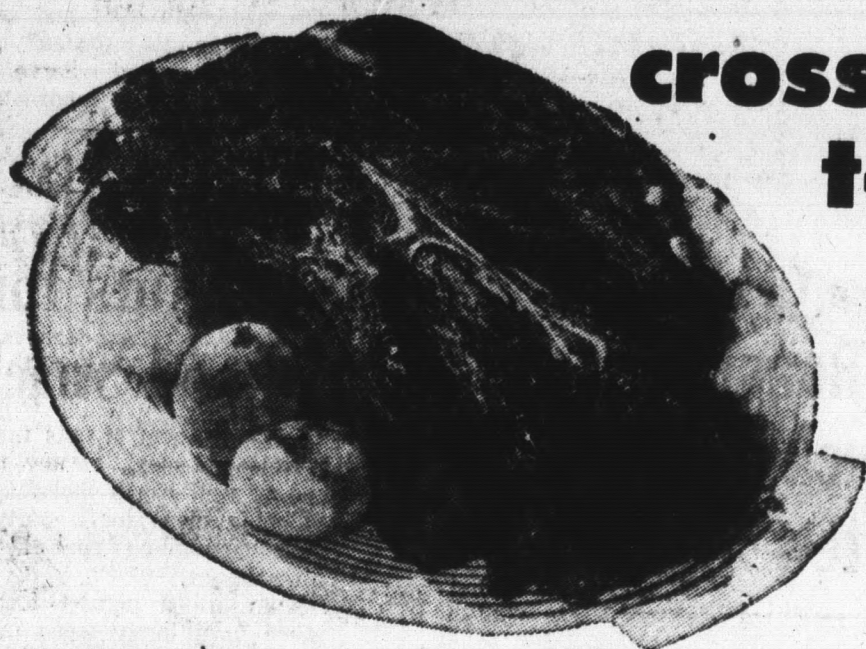

"THE MOMENT OF TRUTH...."

What do you think about when you buy Mayfair's Blue Ribbon Steer Beef? Do you think about how it's all scientifically fed and raised especially for Mayfair customers? Do you think about the fact that every Mayfair Blue Ribbon Steer is individually selected by our beef buyer, on the basis of youth, tenderness and flavor? Some of these things may occur to you... BUT, chances are the thought that's uppermost in your mind is the "taste-test"... how the meat will measure up when it's cooked and served on your dinner table. Because... THIS IS THE MOMENT OF TRUTH! This is the moment when all our beef know-how pays off for you, in eating enjoyment! (Frankly, we dare you... we double-dare you... to buy any cut of Mayfair's Blue Ribbon Beef that won't completely satisfy you... by offering you our unconditional DOUBLE-YOUR-MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE!)

Send in your entry in the FOOTBALL CONTEST

sponsored by The Post and The Times

Entries available every Wednesday in the Post.

RULES AND INSTRUCTIONS

1. Select the winner of each game by placing an "X" in the box on the margin side of the team you think will win. If you predict a game will end in a tie, place an "X" only in the column headed "Ties" between the two teams. If the game ends in a tie, credit will only be given to contestants who predict the tie.
2. Write the total net yards (rushing and passing) that you think the S. F. 49ers will make in Sunday's game in the box provided. (This estimate will only be used in case of ties between two contestants.)
3. Clip and mail the entry blank to: FOOTBALL CONTEST, The Post, 30 Park Plaza Drive, San Mateo, Calif. 94403, or to: FOOTBALL CONTEST, The Times, 30 Park Plaza Drive, San Mateo, Calif. 94403.
4. Mailed entries must be postmarked prior to midnight Thursday of this week and received at The Times no later than 9:00 A.M. Saturday. Entries received after 9:00 A.M. Saturday will be accepted for the following week's contest.
5. To receive the cash prize the winner must pick all 15 games correctly. If the entry does not pick all games right, then the winner will receive 2 tickets to the Big Game, California vs. Stanford on Nov. 23. The previous week's contest cash prize will be added to the next week's contest. This cash prize will be given to the winner of the final week's contest for games to be played Nov. 16-17 if it has not been distributed before. The final week's winner will not need to guess all 15 games to win the cash prize. In case ties cannot be broken between contestants by means of the tie-breaker, the prize will be divided equally. (If the game ends in a tie, credit will only be given to contestants who pick 15 winners.)
6. A bonus of $50 will be given to each prize winner (not Big Game "Ticket" winners) who is a home-delivered subscriber to The San Mateo Times or indicates immediate delivery of The Times is wanted. To qualify for this bonus, either of the boxes at the bottom of the entry blank must be checked. In the event, two or more subscribers divide the contest cash prize, the bonus prize will be divided in the same manner.
7. A contestant may submit as many entries as desired on the official entry blank but only one exact-sized facsimile of the official entry blank, submitted in any one week will render all facsimiles submitted by that contestant void.
8. Entries may be attached to a post card, mailed in an envelope or delivered by hand to the office of The Times.
9. Anyone may enter the contest except employees of The Times or immediate members of their family.
10. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decisions. All entries become the property of The Times. No answers may be returned. The Times reserves the right to correct any typographical errors in the entry blank which affect the outcome of the contest. Answers to the contest or winners' names will NOT be given out over the phone. Winners will be notified by The Times.

Mexico Answer To Sandwiches

Translate "Burritos Con Chili" and you have Mexico's marvelous answer to the sandwich. You also have a wonderfully tasty variation for the fast lunch or snack.

To prepare Burritos Con Chili the good western way, and do it quickly and conveniently, (actual time, 15 minutes) try the recipe below which calls for pre-cooked frozen chili con carne with beans.

1-16 oz. pkg. pre-cooked frozen chili con carne with beans.
8 flour tortillas
½ cup minced onions

¾ cup grated cheddar or jack cheese
½ cup diced tomatoes
Heat chili per instructions on package. If you like your chili a bit on the caliente (hot) side, add more chili seasoning and a pinch of oregano. Heat tortillas (a low open flame on top of stove does it faster; and keep them hot between fold of dish cloth while serving.)

Take a tortilla, place 3 tablespoons of chili in it. Sprinkle with cheese, onion and tomato. Roll tortilla quickly and fold one end over about an inch.

Give Sparkle to Autumn Salads

These glistening individual Party Pear Salads with their colorful pink dressing are sure to make your Autumn meals more festive and flavorful.

Fresh Bartlett pears used here are now in season. Mountain grown and harvested at the peak of their maturity, Pacific Bartletts are individually wrapped and carefully packed to reach your local market in superior condition. Their beautiful size and luscious juiciness make them a delicacy for out-of-hand eating and lunchboxes.

For a change of pace at the end of a busy summer, feature fresh Bartlett pears frequently, as in this recipe for Party Pear Salads.

Party Pear Salads

- 4 fresh Bartlett Pears
- 4 pineapple rings
- 3 ounces cream cheese
- 2 tablespoons chopped maraschino cherries
- 2 tablespoons chopped nuts
- Pineapple juice
- Crisp greens
- Party Pink Dressing

Peel, halve and core fresh pears leaving stems on. Drain pineapple. Cream softened cream cheese with cherries and nuts, adding just enough pineapple juice to make good spreading consistency. Fill center and spread out side of pear half to edges with cream cheese filling. Top with second pear half and arrange over pineapple ring on crisp greens on individual salad plate. Top with Party Pink Dressing. Makes 4 servings.

Party Pink Dressing

- 3 eggs
- ¼ cup pineapple juice
- ¼ cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons melted butter
- ¼ cup lemon juice
- Maraschino cherry juice

Combine eggs, pineapple juice, sugar, salt and melted butter in top of double boiler, beating until blended. Slowly beat in lemon juice. Stir and cook over boiling water until thick. Chill. Thin and tint with maraschino cherry juice before serving.

Winemaker's Cookbook Presented Mrs. Brown

Harry Baccigaluppi, Burlingame winery operator, presents a copy of the new Wine Advisory Board cookbook, "Favorite Recipes of California Winemakers," to Mrs. Edmund G. Brown, wife of California's governor, in the mansion at Sacramento.

Baccigaluppi, with three of his own recipes in the book, prepared one of his specialties.

LIVER GUIDE

In preparing liver, remember, that veal, lamb and pork liver is more tender than beef liver, but all can be made tender if cooked properly. Veal and lamb liver may be broiled or pan-fried. Sliced beef or pork liver is best when braised.

Delano Peach Delight, a dessert containing California cream sherry, for Mrs. Brown to sample.

It is one of more than 500 recipes contributed by winemakers and their wives.

A member of Governor Brown's Business Advisory Council, Baccigaluppi is prominent in the California wine industry as secretary of Wine Institute and a member of the Wine Advisory board.

He is also president of a Delano winery.

The dessert prepared for Mrs. Brown follows:

DELANO PEACH DELIGHT
(4 servings)
4 nectarine or Elberta peach halves

Vanilla ice cream
½ cup California Muscatel Port or Sherry
4 maraschino cherries

Place a nectarine or peach half in bottom of each of 4 sherbet glasses. Cover with ice cream. Pour 2 tablespoons wine over each serving; top with cherry.

Italian macaroons or amaretti served with the dessert will add a final touch of elegance.

BASIC MEAT RULE

The basic rule of meat cookery is: Always cook meat at a low to moderate temperature. This rule applies whether meat is cooked by dry heat (roasting, broiling or panbroiling) or moist heat (braising or in liquid).

Eggs Delmonico Suit A Gourmet for Brunch

Eggs Delmonico, reminiscent of the savory food served at New York's famed Delmonico restaurant, is a gourmet dish for brunch menus — especially when complemented with tender spears of asparagus, and brought to the table with the sauce merrily bubbling!

Served on a slice of your favorite meat atop toast, sliced hard-cooked eggs are covered with any cheese sauce, topped with grated Parmesan cheese, and baked in their individual ramekins in a very hot oven until bubbly-hot, about ten minutes.

To delight the family and friends with your own Eggs Delmonico with Asparagus, take:

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
Dash of cayenne
1 1/2 cups milk
1 1/2 cups (1-3 lb.) Cheddar cheese, diced
4 slices toast
4 thin slices favorite, ready-to-eat meat
4 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
1 package frozen asparagus, or 2 No. 303 cans of asparagus (1 lb. each)
Prepare cheese sauce. Melt butter over low heat. Add flour and seasonings. Blend thoroughly. Add milk all at once. Cook until uniformly thickened, stirring constantly. Blend in cheese. Top toast with meat, eggs and cheese sauce. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees F.) until sauce is bubbly, about 10 minutes. Or, place under broiler until bubbly. Serve promptly. Accompany with hot buttered asparagus spears. Makes 4 servings.

Cold Meat Buffet

For an informal buffet present guests with a tray of inviting ready-to-serve meats and sausages for making into sandwiches. Since such a wide variety of ready-to-serve meats is available, you'll make your meal more lively with a really different assortment.

Choco-Custard Parfait's Pretty

So pretty! So light! So easy to make ahead of time! "Choco Custard Parfait" is a simple, old-fashioned custard poured over pieces of cream-filled chocolate cookies in parfait glasses. (Your stemmed water goblets can make lovely serving dishes, also.) Top with a pert red cherry, then refrigerate until ready to serve and you have a dainty dessert that's a refreshingly cool finale for any warm weather meal. Here's the easy way to make it:

Choco Custard Parfait

2 eggs
1/4 cup sugar
1 tablespoon flour
1/16 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups scalded milk
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
12 Sunshine Hydrox cookies
Maraschino cherries
Beat eggs well; stir in sugar well mixed with flour and salt. Add scalded milk slowly, stirring constantly. Cook in top of double boiler, over hot (not boiling) water, stirring constantly until mixture is thick and salty. Remove from heat, cool a bit and stir in almond extract. Coarsely break a Hydrox cookie into bottom of each of four parfait glasses; pour in some of the custard. Add another broken cookie around and top with sauce; repeat. Refrigerate until needed. Top with Maraschino cherries. Accompany with whole Hydrox cookies. Yield: 4 servings.

Homemade Sauce 'Hits the Spot'

This French Apple Tart is made with homemade applesauce and a single layer of thinly sliced apples. Serve it well chilled.

While apples are plentiful, crisp and tart, treat the family to homemade applesauce and many good dishes made with applesauce. The quickest and easiest way to make applesauce is with a Food Mill. There's no need to peel or core the apples. Quarter them and remove the blossom ends and stems. Place the apples in a pan and add just enough water to keep them from sticking. Cover and cook over low heat until the apples are soft, stirring occasionally. Strain the apples through a Food Mill and sweeten to taste with sugar.

French Apple Tart
Pastry for 1-crust pie
2 medium apples
2 cups applesauce
3 tablespoons sugar
1/2 cup apricot jam

Coffee-Flavored Viennese Velvet

Once in a great while, you discover a recipe so distinctive, so superb that you run short of adjectives! Such a confection is Viennese Velvet. It sounds so simple and is, in fact, so easy to make that you'll have to taste it to believe it. Hot coffee, rich vanilla ice cream, a few finishing touches—that's all there is to it. But you can be sure that the result will "bring down the house" each time you serve it.

Make certain that the ice cream is first-rate, the coffee robust and freshly brewed. Pour more double-strength coffee into demitasse cups. Then don't say we didn't warn you—you may be making Viennese Velvet on a nightly basis!

Viennese Velvet
1 quart vanilla ice cream
6 cups double-strength coffee, hot or cold
Whipped Cream

Place one large scoop of vanilla ice cream in each of six tall glasses. Pour hot or cold double-strength coffee carefully over ice cream until glass is about 3/4 full. Add a second scoop of ice cream and fill glass with coffee. Garnish with whipped cream, and add a sprinkle of nutmeg if desired. You will need long spoons for the first half of this dessert-beverage, but you will drink the latter half.

New Dial In Cocktail Lounge Serves Lunches

BOB WILKINS invites you to visit his new Dial In Cocktail Lounge which is now open and ready for business. This swank, new 318 El Camino Real, Redwood City spot, is a welcome addition to the fast-growing nitery horizon. Luncheon is served daily from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.; hors d'oeuvres from 4:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. and at 12 midnight. Enjoyed my weekly order of steamed clams at Vince's Italian and Sea Foods Restaurant, Wednesday eve, and guess I'm still in the amateur class when it comes to big-sized orders. A dozen, or more, and that's it. But the gent sitting at the next counter seat went through at least five dozen clams, then called for a cup of clam juice—which even had the usually calm Jerri Garcia, counter hostess, doing a double take. . . . George Mardikian's Omar Khayyam's restaurant is also open Sundays and Holidays from 2 p.m. to 12 midnight. This is truly a mecca for connoisseurs of exceptional food. . . . No parking problems at Nick's in Pacifica. There's almost an acre devoted to just that in back of the restaurant and 40 paces from the seashore.

Bob Wilkins

Ed Sullivan

EVERY NIGHT IN THE HYATT HOUSE cocktail lounge is "Mardi Gras" time. This late-night, early-evening setting is highlighted by pianobar entertainment; dinner-dancing in the plush dining room. General manager Ed Sullivan says to join the fun and automatically become a member of the "club." . . . In case you'd like a suggestion on what to order in Barney's (Stateline) Casino restaurant: A steak sandwich with all the trimmings. Real great and a filler. . . . The Benjamin Franklin Hotel has airport atmosphere aplenty—what with pilots and cute stewardesses making this their "home port of call" during lay-over periods. . . . "Fine Japanese Foods" is a mild way of saying that the San Raku Restaurant is the place to dine when seeking the unusual. Luncheon and dinner from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily, except Tuesday. . . .

DAVE PASKALEFF, or his Mrs., are always on kitchen duty at their Tip Top Restaurant. They tend to producing the tasty food which appears on the menu 24 hours a day. Appetite tip: Steak and eggs; breakfast, lunch or dinner. . . . Decor in the new International Inn cocktail lounge is eye-catching—especially the black leather upholstered booths and chairs. Backdropped with a cozy fireplace. . . . Eggs Benedict, one of my all-time favorite breakfast dishes, is served Sunday mornings at the Pioneer Hotel in Woodside. Real yummy. . . . You're in for a "happy" two hours at the Valdoro when dropping in between 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. Double Martinis, Manhattans, Old Fashions, and hors d'oeuvres await your visit. . . . Jim and Larry Kennedy are making quite a name for themselves at their Pedro Point Vagabond Chuck Wagon restaurant. Have heard raves galore on the prime ribs and chicken (served seven nights a week). . . . New cash register at Milk Tomini's Princeton Inn. "It's a dandy!" says Milt. According to the customers, the only thing missing on the old register (the hand turn variety) whenever a sale was rung up, was a monkey on a leash tipping his hat to the accompaniment of organ music. Attention, all spooks: Be on hand this Friday night for the "Inn's annual Halloween party. Prizes and fun galore. . . . Be sure to take your out-of-town guests to one of the four Uncle John's Pancake Houses. They will have plenty to tell the folks back home about—food and hospitality.

Pancho's in Redwood City has a clever sign at Five Points to advertise its choice south-of-the-border delicacies: "Mexican Food? Si. Yankee food? No." . . . The other noon hour at Rocco's restaurant a little fellow walked in with his father and checked his baseball cap with Cashier Lee Yager. After lunch, Lee handed him his cap before he gave her the check and he complimented her on her "real good" memory.

Victor Buena Now at Sinaloa

Popular Victor Buena, Mexican movie and recording star, returned to Luz Garcia's Sinaloa Monday, Oct. 21, after a very successful entertainment engagement in Mexico City.

If you live in the vicinity of Joe's of Westlake and you heard a "happy time" going on, last evening, it was the seventh anniversary celebration of this well known Italian restaurant—and the customers were living it up the way they should.

Vienna Watkins, member of Betty Sedam's Mountain View Caravan Inn staff, has been selected to represent the Caravan Inn restaurant in the Oakland Gentlemen Chef's "Miss Barbary Coast" contest to be held at the Leamington Hotel in Oakland on Thursday, Oct.

A little old lady at Lew Lehr's in the Marina clutched her Bowser Bag containing the steak she couldn't finish and grinned impishly at her waitress: "I can't finish my drink, either. Do you have a Booser Bag? This could be the start of something.

The gay Fall season is being ushered in at the Villa Charter and Lanai restaurants with scores of parties, club meetings and get-togethers on the reservations books. These restaurants, with a reputation dating back to 1925 (38 years), have long been the choice of Peninsulans.

It's fun visiting the Brentwood Lodge, where every night, except Monday, people gather to enjoy the excellent cuisine. The food is delightful and the cocktail lounge cozy.

Keith Williamson's New Restaurant Policy

KEITH WILLIAMSON, the Burlingame chicken "king," has again "flipped" his menu. "Now you can enjoy a chicken feast that you often hear about but seldom find," said he. Keith is now serving all the fried chicken you can eat (on the premises) for just $2 per person at his Chicken and Steak House. And I'd say this is one of the most outstanding food bargains to appear on these pages in some time. Keith's chickens, as always, are government inspected and delivered fresh from Reif and Brody Inc. Poultry Processors in Petaluma (seems somewhere along the line, Petaluma has always been known as the chicken country). . . . A. Sabella's Capri Room luncheon and dinner patrons have no more parking problems. Lucien Sabella has made arrangements with Mario's Flying A Service station (located on Beach between Taylor and Mason) for parking space. The restaurant will validate the tickets. Special note to those planning to have a Halloween ball: The Capri Room will be the gala scene of a Halloween costume party on Thursday, October 31. Come one, come all! Prizes for the most original costumes; dancing to Joe Marcellino's orchestra. Make reservations right now.

Frank Dennison Relaxes For Moment

The "bare" facts about the sign that appeared on Frank Dennison's Sheraton-Villa Motor Inn marquee, last weekend ("Welcome Nudist Convention"), are plain and simple. Mr. Dennison just wanted to convey a welcome to conventions of this "nature." However, it didn't "come off" and everything is once again back to normal. Who can tell what Frank's next idea will be—business-wise, that is?

"Swede," former Shor-Vu restaurant and nitery operator, is now tending to plank duties at Enrico Romano's Pacifica restaurant.

The Holiday season can't be far away. Phil Lehr tells us he's being deluged with requests for use of private dining rooms at his downtown Steakery for holiday parties.

Board Okays Boundary Realignment

Transfer of a square mile of San Mateo county land to Santa Clara county was approved last week by the San Mateo county board of supervisors.

The property is in the East Palo Alto area and includes several municipal facilities of the city of Palo Alto—a golf course, airport, yacht harbor and sewage treatment plant.

The old boundary follows a meandering line which was formerly the course of San Francisco creek. The course was relocated northward 30 years ago, however, and the new boundary line will follow the new course.

Santa Clara county supervisors also approved the transfer last week.

County Manager E. R. Stallings noted that the boundary change was the culmination of years of work. It was made possible by legislation approved in Sacramento this year.

Stallings said the move will benefit San Mateo county residents in several ways. Palo Alto has been reluctant to improve the airport as long as it remained in San Mateo county.

Now, Stallings said, the city will put in improvements that will be used by residents of both counties. The transfer will also permit flood control work and improvements to the yacht harbor.

Stallings said Palo Alto planned a $385,000 marina project to be developed if the transfer went through.

Nancy Cross Criticized By Stallings

A long-distance dressing down was administered by County Manager E. R. Stallings last week to Nancy Jewell Cross, county government's most persistent critic.

The scolding came after District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson reported to the board of supervisors that there was no substance to the latest series of charges brought by the Menlo Park woman.

A six-page opinion, prepared by Deputy James Parmelee, was handed to the board last week.

Miss Cross was not present because the matter was brought up as an unscheduled, off-the-agenda item.

Concerning her charges that four separate transactions were illegal, Parmelee said:

"We have concluded that there was no illegality in any of the expenditures complained of by Miss Cross and that your board need take no further action."

The report was accepted and approved by the board.

"It is commendable," Stallings said, "that members of the general public take an interest in government affairs. But there is a point where you reach the limit, where you can not expect the staff to drop its regular work to do special research just because an individual has a feeling that everything is being operated in an illegal and dishonest way."

"This report took a member of the district attorney's staff a full week to research and prepare, forcing him to drop other matters of considerable importance. Each of the charges was proved to be erroneous."

"Somewhere along the line taxpayers should know that inquiries such as this are constantly increasing the cost of government."

"This was a tremendous waste of taxpayers' money."
